WILSON WITHDRAWS JONES' NOMINATION FOR RESERVE BOARD

The President Declares That He Is Unwilling for Mr. Jones to Be "Football" of Senate Contest.

OPPONENTS OF JONES DENOUNCED BY WILSON

President Says Jones Has Been Treated With "Gross and Manifest Injustice." Wilson to Push Warburg.

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson late today ended the bitterest fight of his administration by withdrawing the nomination of Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago, to be a member of the federal reserve board. Mr. Jones had written urging this action.

The message of withdrawal reached the senate just as Senator Reed, of Missouri, one of the democrats opposing confirmation of the appointment, was concluding a vigorous denunciation of the International Harvester company, of which Mr. Jones is director, and those responsible for its existence and operations. It created a mild sensation and cut short a debate that promised to run indefinitely.

With the brief message, the president sent copies of Mr. Jones' letter and his reply. Opposition to the nominee had been based on his connection with the Harvester company, which is under indictment as a trust. The senate banking committee had submitted a majority report adverse to confirmation, signed by all the republican and two democratic members. Mr. Jones wrote that this report was "based on a distortion of facts and perversion of the truth."

Wilson Scores Jones' Opponents.

In his reply President Wilson accepted Mr. Jones' suggestion with reluctance and scored those who, he said, had treated his nominee with "gross and manifest injustice." He disclaimed any embarrassment in standing by a man he believed in, but declared he was unwilling to allow Mr. Jones to be a "football" in the contest that had sprung up.

At the white house it was said the president's action today did not indicate that there had been any change in his determination to insist upon the confirmation of Paul M. Warburg, whose nomination to the reserve board also is being opposed.

Nothing has been heard from Mr. Warburg in regard to his appearance before the banking committee and Senator O'Gorman, who is understood to have been endeavoring to persuade Mr. Warburg to change his mind and accept the committee's invitation, is not expected to return to Washington until tomorrow.

The Senate contest over the Jones case, which threatened partial obliteration of party lines and a free for all struggle, was at its height when the president determined to abandon his effort to force the nomination through. Feeling in the senate ran high.

Reed Attacks Harvester Company.

In this situation Senator Reed today took the floor. For several hours he held the senate with an attack on the Harvester company. Mr. Jones' connection with that concern was the principal basis for the opposition to his confirmation. Senator Reed began with a review of President Wilson's position against monopoly, as expressed in the president's writings, his expressions as to the "personal guilt" of officials of offending corporations, and democratic platform declarations on the same subject.

Through the history of the Harvester company from its organization in 1902, the senator swept with a whirlwind of invectives and sarcasm reciting from arguments in the government suit against the concern and the records of congressional investigation.

"This pirate ship whose keel was laid down by Morgan and Perkins in 1902" Senator Reed said, "is sailing the same sea today, manned by the same crew, except for an occasional dummy director to fill a vacancy, and those who tread her decks today are just as deserving of punishment as those who launched her on her buccaneering cruise."

"The man who conducts the Harvester trust" the senator said, "cannot escape responsibility by alleging that his sponsor and friend created it before he took service.

Ali Baba and Forty Thieves.

"The Harvester company has many farms. It is only one of that pestiferous litter whelped in the Morgan offices. These all are united by the triple ties of consanguinity, affinity and interest. The monopoly quagmire has a common origin and a common bed. Touched at its circumference, it quivers its entire body. Shake it and there will come crawling to the surface the foul beasts that inhabit its slime. Their heads will appear in concert, and their angry cries unite in an inharmonious chorus of malediction.

"Their cause is as much in common as was that of Ali Babi and his forty thieves. Touch the International and arouse the steel trust. Awaken it and you disturb a chain of subsidiary companies."

While Senator Reed was speaking, Secretary Tumulty held a conference with Senators Hollis and Pomerene, who with Senators Lee, of Maryland, and Shafroth have been most active in urging the confirmation of Mr. Jones.

The president's secretary had not long been in conference with the senators from Ohio and New Hampshire before the purpose of his mission was whispered about the senate lobby.

Democratic Love Feast.

In executive session a few minutes later the formal announcement of the withdrawal was received without comment. When the senate adjourned,

DESERTION STORY STRONGLY DENIED BY DR. PICKARD

"Whole Thing Is an Outrageous Untruth," President of Mercer Tells The Constitution.

HIS SON-IN-LAW WRITES HE AND WIFE ARE HAPPY

Not a Hint of Desertion or Unhappiness in Letters From Daughter or Son-in-Law, Says Pickard.

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Dr. W. L. Pickard, president of Mercer, came to Savannah tonight to take personal charge of the case of his daughter who married Leverett R. Harrison on the eve of her intended marriage to Karl Karsten and later wired her mother to come to her, thus starting the report of a disagreement between husband and wife. The Harrisons are supposed to be at the home of the groom in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Karsten, the rejected suitor, who reached Savannah the day after the wedding, is still here a guest at the Pickard home. He consulted attorneys today and it is understood his hope is to have the marriage annulled. Mr. Karsten declined to be interviewed and the attorney he consulted refused to discuss it.

Dr. Pickard's Statement.

Dr. Pickard tonight made the following statement, after carefully reading all of the correspondence from his daughter:

"I feel outraged at the sensational untruths that the papers have carried with reference to my daughter Florence having been deserted by her husband, Mr. Harrison. The interview I gave out was based on a wire from Savannah to Macon papers that Mr. Harrison had deserted my daughter.

"The whole thing is an outrageous the matter and find two letters from untruth. I came home to look into Mr. Harrison, in which he states he is very happy with my daughter, and a letter from her, in which she states that while the sudden turn in affairs seems all strange yet, that her husband seems very happy and that they were at that writing on the boat from New York to Boston en route to Nova Scotia and she felt more invigorated after getting into cooler climate.

"She expressed her deep regret at any sorrow that she may have brought to others, and did not say that she was happy. But they are together and on their way to his home. She further said that Mr. Harrison was

HORDES OF ZAPATA BATTLE IN SUBURBS OF MEXICAN CAPITAL

Carbajal Is Massing All the Troops He Can Gather to Prevent the Capture of Mexico City.

TORCH IS BEING APPLIED BY THE ZAPATA FORCES

Fighting Is Desperate and Many Have Been Killed and Wounded — Carbajal Issues Statement.

Mexico City, July 23.—No armistice with the constitutionalists has yet been arranged. President Francisco Carbajal, through his private secretary, today made the following statement to the Associated Press:

"An armistice has not been signed as yet, but the president is making arrangements for a definite and peaceful settlement with the revolutionists. His most earnest desire is that Mexico shall return to the path of order and progress and the re-establishment of a legally constituted government."

Fighting in Suburbs.

Fighting around Tlalpam and Xochimilco is still going on. A strong column was dispatched at noon to reinforce the federal troops in the field. These fresh forces, it is believed in military circles, will drive the Zapata adherents back into the Ajusco mountains, where their retreat will be cut off by a column under General Pedro Ojeda, stationed in Tres Marias, on the railroad to Cuernavaca.

The Zapatistas still held their positions this afternoon, but the government troops were pushing the attack against them. The pumps at Xochimilco, which supply the drinking water for the capital and which were damaged by the revolutionists, have not been repaired. The water famine threatening the capital has been averted, however, by the use of the Chapultepec waterworks. The Zapatistas directed several attacks today on the Xochimilco waterworks, but were repulsed.

Carbajal Massing Troops.

The safety of the capital was further assured today by the arrival of about 4,000 federals from Lagos. The troops garrisoning the city now number more than 20,000. They are supplied with sixty field pieces.

Throughout the day federal reinforcements were arriving at Xochimilco. The roads leading from the capital to that town were lined from early this morning until late tonight with federal cavalry and infantry, making the twenty mile trip overland. Tonight the garrison at Xochimilco numbered 5,000 men, including infantry, cavalry and artillery.

Troops tonight guarded all approaches to the village, while the main body of 3,000 men, massed in the public square, slept on their arms, prepared for a momentary attack. A dozen cannon and sixty machine guns were in place in strategic positions.

Difficult to Locate Zapata's Men.

It has been difficult to locate the positions of Zapata's men owing to the dense vegetation surrounding the village. It is estimated, however, that they number not less than 6,00 and they are receiving reinforcements hourly.

There has been no advance by either side. There is desolation in the surrounding region. The torch has been applied by Zapata's adherents wherever opposition was met. During their advance today the federals also burned two villages, strongholds of the followers of Zapata. The emergency hospital at Xochimilco is filled with wounded and the morgue contains a number of dead. The Red Cross and White Cross societies are caring for the wounded, who after first aid treatment, are sent into the capital.

CARBAJAL SENDS AGENT TO OPEN NEGOTIATIONS WITH GEN. CARRANZA

Washington, July 23.—Reginal Cepeda, senator from the state of Coahuila and intimate friend of General Carranza, has been selected by Provisional President Carbajal to negotiate the transfer of the government at Mexico City to the constitutionalists.

Mr. Cepeda, who was in hiding in Mexico City during the Huerta dictatorship, left Vera Cruz today for Tampico to meet General Carranza. He has full instructions and authority to arrange for the transfer of government.

Jose Castellot, personal representative of Mr. Carbajal, today conveyed this information to Secretary Bryan. Messrs. Mangel, Novelo and Urueta, who, it had been supposed, would constitute the Carbajal commission, it was learned today, merely volunteered their services and have no credentials or authority from Carbajal.

First Step in Negotiations.

As soon as Mr. Cepeda is received by General Carranza an armistice will be formally signed as the first step in the negotiations. General Carranza has indicated his willingness to declare a truce during the negotiations and the Carbajal government is anxious to do likewise. The Carbajal envoy has been instructed to ask for only two things—a complete amnesty for political offenders and guarantees of protection to the lives and property of the Mexican people.

While local agents of Carranza have said he was disinclined to grant an amnesty, his speech today at Victoria, Mexico, and other reliable advices show he will declare an amnesty, though reserving the right to punish those directly responsible for the assassination of Madero and Suarez. Most of those implicated, however, have left Mexico City.

Secretary Bryan expressed confidence there would be no difficulty in the way of a Carranza-Carbajal agreement.

Villa and Zapata Cause Uneasiness.

There are, however, two other factors in the problem—Villa and Zapata—causing uneasiness, but President Wilson today said he was sure Villa would

This is the newest picture of Mme. Henriette Caillaux, on trial in Paris for the killing of Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro. Here are extracts from her story on the stand: "M. Caillaux was premier, and in marrying him I found complete happiness. I thought all would be happy, but, alas, my life began to be poisoned by calumnies!" "The attacks of The Figaro were implacable. They had nothing to do with politics. They were personal. I suffered, and I lost my head." "But one lamp was burning in M. Calmette's desk. In the semiobscurity I saw before me my enemy, he who had done so much to injure me and my husband. 'You probably know the object of my visit,' I said. 'I do not. Please sit down,' he answered. I had spoken without knowing what I said. I could not take my eyes from him. I lost my head. I killed him. After pulling my revolver from my muff I continued to press the trigger. I continued to shoot, though I had no desire to kill or even to wound when I entered the office." "I shot Gaston Calmette because he was about to publish love letters sent by me to my husband before he was divorced from his first wife. For three months I had mounted Calvary. No one can imagine what I went through. I feared for myself, because if part of those letters were published my deepest, innermost secret would be displayed before the world, my woman honor stripped and naked. My poor father, who last year told me that a wife who had a lover was a woman without honor, never would have set foot in my house had he known of by laison with M. Caillaux. Finally, I did not wish to blush before my daughter."

DIVORCED WOMAN SCORES EX-HUSBAND AND PRESENT WIFE

Mme. Berthe Gueydan Lays Bare to World Secrets of Her Life as First Wife of Ex-Premier Caillaux.

SHE SWEARS CAILLAUX THREATENED HER LIFE

And Denounces the Present Mme. Caillaux as Intruder Who Took Her Place. Caillaux Hotly Replies to His Former Wife.

Paris, July 23—Mme. Berthe Gueydan, Joseph Caillaux's first wife, a slender woman with black eyes and wasted cheeks, today faced her former husband, the ex-premier of France, and put upon the rack the woman who had won him from her—Mme. Henriette Caillaux, now on trial charged with the murder of Gaston Calmette.

Mme. Gueydan was expected to tell of her part in the publication in The Figaro of the now celebrated "Thy Joe" letter, but she declared she knew nothing about it and affirmed that she had told Calmette nothing.

The emotional climax of the trial was reached when other private letters were handed over by Mme. Gueydan to Fernand Labori, counsel for Mme. Caillaux.

"Here is the packet of letters I took at Mamers," said Mme. Gueydan, giving them to an attendant who passed them to M. Labori.

"I will consider with Maitre Chenu what shall be done," said M. Labori, "but whatever we decide, the jury may rest assured that they will be apprised of their contents as is their right and duty to expect."

"Among them," added Mme. Gueydan, "are the two letters referred to as the private letters."

Bared Secrets of Her Life.

Mme. Gueydan then left the box. Her remarkable personality had completely dominated the whole procedure. For three hours she spoke and her voice carried to the remotest corner of the room.

In that time she laid bare many of the secrets of her life with M. Caillaux. She told of his liason and of his throwing himself at her knees to ask her pardon. She described her methods of defense against what she termed "the machiavellian maneuvers of an unfaithful husband." She testifield that he even threatened her life.

Then she left him, hoping he would follow her, but he did not, and she added, with a flash of her eyes and a tightening of her lips: "You know why!"

She gained the sympathy of those in the court room with telling phrases. There were murmurs of applause despite the admonitory rappings of the judge and threats to clear the court. When she returned to her place, many crowded around her with outstretched hands and cries of "bravo."

Caillaux Attacks Former Wife.

M. Caillaux returning to the bar said:

"M. Labori was right in thanking Mme. Gueydan for the letters. The calumny does not come from us, but persons who used methods against us never used against others. But that is a diversion. I return to that poor woman there," pointing with dramatic gesture to the dock where Mme Caillaux sat shaking with emotion, "with all my strength I will defend her. I ought to be beside her; nothing shall separate us."

As her husband was speaking the prisoner's convulsive sobbing could be heard. M. Caillaux went on with wild gestures to depict the years which had preceded his marriage to her. "I made but one mistake," he said, turning to Mme. Gueydan; "that was in marrying you."

"Monsier Caillaux, you are disgracing yourself," responded Mme. Gueydan calmly.

"No, I am not disgracing myself. Our characters were so opposed that a common life was impossible. My dignity forbade me to live any longer with you."

This sharp passage provoked an uproar.

"Let me finish," shouted M. Caillaux. "You did not want a divorce. Never-

BOSS BARNES SUES BOSS T. ROOSEVELT

New York G. O. P. Chairman Brings Libel Action Against Colonel — Roosevelt Must Do Something.

New York, July 23.—Chairman William Barnes, of the republican state committee, announced today that he had instructed his counsel to bring suit for libel against Theodore Roosevelt, based upon Colonel Roosevelt's statement of last night attacking Mr. Barnes and indorsing the candidacy of Harvey D. Hinman for the nomination for governor at the republican primaries.

The amount of damages for which Mr. Barnes would sue apparently had not been determined when he issued his statement. It was said however, that it would be for a substantial sum.

The suit will be brought in the supreme court within a few days, Mr. Barnes announced.

Barnes on Roosevelt.

"I have nothing whatever to say in reply to Mr. Roosevelt's diatribe, except that it lacks dignity, self-restraint and is without dignity," reads Mr. Barnes' statement. "When an issue of this kind is raised by a person of such prominence, one has but one of three courses:

"To submit to the aspersion; to enter into an unseemly personal controversy, or to appeal to the courts.

"I deny the truthfulness of every statement made by Mr. Roosevelt in his publication this morning and have instructed my counsel to bring an action for libel without delay against him."

It was reported Mr. Barnes' statement was issued after a conference with other republican leaders.

Mr. Barnes declined to specify what portions of Colonel Roosevelt's statement were distasteful, but said: "The statement, in its entirety, is untrue."

Barnes Asks for $50,000.

The complaint, which was served upon Colonel Roosevelt tonight, asks damages of $50,000 on the ground that the statement issued by the former president last night contained references to Mr. Barnes that were "libelous, false and untrue."

No specific statements of the colonel are instanced in the complaint, the entire statement being reproduced with the allegation that the defendant published it "maliciously and with intent thereby to injure the plaintiff, and without cause, and for the purpose of defaming and injuring the legitimate political influence and activity of the plaintiff in the performance of his duty of citizenship."

Papers Served on Roosevelt.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 23.—The obligation to appear in court and defend himself against a $50,000 libel suit begun by William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the republican state committee, was imposed on ex-President Roosevelt tonight with the serving of the papers in the case. A copy of the

PRIMARY DATE ASSURES NEW ATLANTA RECORDER

Entries for City Primary Close Four Days Before the State Primary.

If Judge Nash R. Broyles is defeated in his race for a place on the appellate court bench, he will have no opportunity to offer for the judgship of the police court.

When the city executive committee met Thursday afternoon to decide on the date for the city-wide primary, there was considerable discussion as to whether the committee would fix the date early in September or late in August, and when the committee announced that September 15 had been selected there was considerable talk that opponents of Judge Broyles slipped one over on him.

Judge Broyles has placed himself squarely in the race for the court of appeals and he will have opposition from Alex H. Stephens, and because of his candidacy in the state election he will be forced to relinquish his place as recorder.

The committee decided to allow prospective candidates until August 15 to make entry into the various races. As the state primary does not come off until August 19, Judge Broyles would not be able to stand for the recorder's place if beaten in the court of appeals race.

Following the announcement of the committee that the city primary will be held on September 15, Henry Garrett made a protest on the ground that the time would be too brief for the candidates to make a careful campaign.

However, members of the committee take the position that it would be beneficial to the candidates to allow them only a brief time to electioneer.

The subcommittee will meet within a week or ten days to fix the amount which each candidate will be assessed.

CANTRELL BROTHERS RESPITED BY SLATON

Governor Wants More Time to Look Into the Records of the Case.

Governor John M. Slaton has respited Jim and Bert Cantrell, of Hall county, until Friday, July 31, in order that he may have an opportunity more fully to go into the record.

The Cantrells were to have been hanged today at Gainesville for the murder of Arthur Hawkins, a well-known farmer of Hall county. Great pressure was brought to bear to save them. Two weeks ago Hon. H. H. Dean, of Gainesville, and the late Fletcher Johnson, of the same place, appeared before the prison commission and urged a commutation of sentence.

They presented lengthy petitions and a number of citizens of Hall county came to the city to plead for the lives of the two young men.

The killing of Hawkins was done by Bert Cantrell at the instigation of his brother Jim and Mrs. Hawkins who was infatuated with Jim. Mrs. Hawkins is now serving a life term in the penitentiary

GREAT WATERWAY OPENS AUGUST 15

Secretary Garrison Announces Date When Panama Canal Will Be Ready for Commerce of World.

Washington, July 23.—Opening of the Panama canal to the world's commerce on August 15, next, was announced tonight by Secretary Garrison. Probably the first vessel to pass through the great waterway will be the Cristobal, a war department steamer now at Colon.

There will be no formalities in connection with the epoch-marking event, all ceremonies being left for the official opening when the international fleet passes through the canal in March, 1915.

Secretary Garrison's Announcement.

Mr. Garrison's announcement follows:

"The Panama canal will be open for commerce to vessels not needing more than 30 feet of water on and after August 15, 1914.

"The official opening of the canal as heretofore announced, will be in the month of March, 1915. An appropriate announcement will be made when a greater depth of water than 30 feet has been secured.

"On the 15th of August Colonel Goethals will inaugurate the commercial service by sending a government boat through the canal. There will be no ceremonies incident to the occasion, but American newspapers who may desire to have representatives present may do so. The others who will be present on the boat will be determined between now and the time mentioned.

"LINDLEY M. GARRISON."

When the Cristobal steams from its slip to the entrance of the canal it will mark the conclusion by American enterprise of the greatest engineering task ever undertaken which has severely taxed the abilities of the army engineers under Colonel Goethals.

Some things remain to be done to perfect the waterway. The channel through the Culebra cut must be deepened and widened so that it will not be necessary for the great liners and battleships to pass through the tricky "slides" at Cucharucha and Bold Hill, in single file.

While with the 30 feet of water in the canal, some of the dreadnaughts might pick their way through after August 15, yet, Secretary Daniels said tonight that he would not be likely to order any such movement except in an emergency. He will wait until there is more water in the great ditch.

Section Director.

theless, whatever wrongs were on my side were handsomely compensated for. I gave you 18,000 francs alimony. You had not a centime when I married you; I gave you 200,000 francs."

Chorus of Groans.

A chorus of groans greeted these remarks. Caillaux whirled around and began to address the court room. He was called to order by the judge, but continued to recite the circumstances of his divorce.

Both he and Mme. Caillaux believed, he said, that the "Thy Joe" letter formed one of a triology and that its publication would be followed by the publication of the other two.

"Gentlemen"—he turned to the jury—"I am a profoundly unhappy man since my second marriage," Mme. Caillaux's sobs at this stage redouble and became painful to hear.

"Are you going," asked M. Caillaux of Mme. Gueydan, "to force us to trumpet forth in this place all those things that we avoided at the time of the divorce?"

Mme. Gueydan did not reply.

M. Caillaux left the stand. "Whatever you may have done, I forgive you, and salute you," said he, bowing low as he passed her.

Two Ex-Premiers at Bar.

The court hummed with expectation when the ex-premier, Jean Louis Barthou, took the stand. After he had recorded his high opinion of the integrity and patriotism of Gaston Calmette, he denied ever having told M. Caillaux that Mme. Gueydan had showed him two letters. He told of steps taken at the request of the premier, Doumergue, to stop M. Calmette from publishing a number of documents, notably the Fabre report. Calmette at first refused to listen to him, but M. Briand, the former minister of justice, then joined him in his insistence.

"'If I do not publish the Fabre report,' said M. Calmette to me," Barthou continued, "'I have nothing more; my campaign is over.'"

M. Caillaux then confronted him and the two ex-premiers stood at the bar. Barthour affirmed that he had never said Mme. Gueydan had showed him the letters. Caillaux was equally positive that he had.

Finally M. Labori ended the incident by saying: "There can be no question of the good faith of both of you gentlemen, but your minds could not have been working the same way that day."

Denounces Her Successor.

The story of Mme. Gueydan, the divorced wife of M. Caillaux, was the feature of the proceedings. At one time she impassionately declared:

"I have been pained to see that the person who drew the indictment has gathered the filth. All the pity has gone to the intruder who defiled my home to take my place."

This declaration drew a chorus of "bravos" from the crowded courtroom.

Madame Gueydan is a slender woman of medium height. She looked to be about 35 years old. Her face was drawn in tragic lines, her black eyes showing from great sockets in her wasted cheeks. She seemed ill, but walked with calm dignity past her former husband standing in front of the judges.

The judge refused her request that she be permitted to refer to her notes.

"There have been so many lies told," said Mme. Gueydan, "that my notes are absolutely necessary if only to fix dates. Was not M. Caillaux allowed to read from papers? I am confronted with a mountain of lies which I must climb and break to pieces one by one. I am alone. I have no husband to defend me."

In saying this she cast a long glance at Mme. Caillaux, who, however, did not look at her.

She Boasts of Her Courage.

"You are not here to accuse," interposed Maitre Labori, the accused woman's counsel. "You will find nothing but courtesy and deference for yourself personally if your role is simply that of a witness. But if you come here to accuse then you will find me in front of you as a defender of my client."

"If you have spoken of me to M. Caillaux," replied the witness in a challenging tone, "he will have told you that at least I have courage."

"It is said that the crime was committed because I communicated copies of letters," continued Mme. Gueydan. She then referred to her notes, in spite of a previous warning from the court that she must not do so, and Maitre Labori objected amid murmurs of protest against him from the audience.

Judge Albanel supported Maitre Labori's objections. The judge then himself addressed the witness, saying: "Disagreements arose in your home?"

"There were no disagreements."

The witness was speaking rapidly. She continued:

"Our domestic life was tender. No one knows. Not even you, Mr. President, and absolutely no one knows about this affair."

Judge Albanel: "Nevertheless, you and your husband had a reconciliation over something, and the letters were burned. Will you explain?"

Her Husband's Mistress.

Mme. Gueydan: "The first letter which appeared—do you know who gave that to me? M. Caillaux. He did it at the ministry of finances in 1908."

"I had never suspected that my husband had a mistress. I first knew it when he threw himself at my knees and asked my pardon. He humbled himself and I pardoned him, but the day after he returned to this person. I did not cease to believe his lying talk. I believed that the evil surrounding my home had gone, for I thought I saw the bottom of his heart in his tears."

Mme. Gueydan's voice had become clear and though she spoke in low tones, her words penetrated every part of the chamber as she said:

"I did not know at all the person in question. To show you my loyalty to my husband, he confided to me a traveling satchel full, he said, of important papers. I never opened it. I did not know, until a long time afterwards, that it contained correspondence between him and Mme. Raymouard, now Mme. Caillaux."

The witness' voice sank into indistinctness and she stood silent for a moment before continuing. Then she said only: "I do not know what I can say—what I ought to say."

Intended to Kill Her.

Judge Albanel requested her to continue. She then said:

"My husband became irritable and I was nervous. One day he said to me, 'Do you know I came to your bedside last night to kill you?' After that I felt I ought to leave. I went to Versailles and wrote to him. I thought he would follow me and bring me home, but no! He went to the department of the Sarthe and I returned to Paris.

"Well! I came back home and I noticed his desk half open. There were in it two letters from a woman. They had been fabricated by him and Mme. Raynouard to make me believe that there was no intimacy between them."

Joseph Caillaux, during her testimony, changed his seat four times, getting nearer to her so he was better able to hear until finally he was within four or five feet of her.

Mme. Gueydan, however, did not notice M. Caillaux, whose fingers were twitching and whose hands were incessantly opening and shutting.

The witness meantime entered into many details and small happenings before her divorce. She said:

"I have an impression he was afraid."

Looked Ex-Husband in Face.

While she was saying this Mme. Gueydan turned and looked her former husband straight in the face. Mme. Caillaux bent over the railing around the prisoner's inclosure with her face half concealed.

Mme. Gueydan then recited a succession of quarrels and reconciliations between M. Caillaux and herself. She said she had found letters at their house and added, "I took them so as not to be unarmed in the divorce."

Maitre Labori inquired if Mme. Gueydan had not signed an agreement to burn all the correspondence after her divorce.

Mme. Gueydan replied, "I had to defend myself against the Machiavellian maneuvers of an unfaithful husband. He asked me to give my word of honor. I did not do it, nor did I ask his word of honor because I knew he had no honor.

"There was no agreement. Only his supplications. You are trying to make me responsible for the crime. You seek extenuating circumstances.

"All that has been said by the accused is false and all that M. Caillaux has said is false," the witness cried passionately.

Mme. Gueydan went over at great length various incidents preceding her divorce. She said:

"M. Caillaux, notwithstanding all his power, could not get a divorce against me. It was pronounced in my favor. I was blameless and you torture me to drag from me this dolorous history."

Photograph of "Thy Joe" Letter.

The witness admitted having had a photograph of the "Thy Joe" letter.

Judge Albanel: "How did Calmette get it?"

Mme. Gueydan: "Do you know how he got the Victor Fabre decoument referring to the Rochette case? I know nothing about it."

The judge: "And you reaffirm that you told Calmette nothing?"

The witness: "I swear it."

Maitre Chenu: "But there were other letters spoken of two months ago."

The witness: "They are upon me."

Maitre Chenu adjured Maitre Labori to join in insisting on the production of the letters and Maitre Labori addressed Mme. Gueydan:

"Madame, I salute your grief. I have no other question to ask you."

Maitre Chenu still insisted and finally Mme. Gueydan said:

"I will give the letters to Maitre Labori to do with them as he may wish."

HORDES OF ZAPATA BATTLE IN SUBURBS

cause no trouble. Secretary Bryan made public dispatches from George C. Carothers, special representative of the state department with Villa, saying the fighting general would not break with Carranza.

Mexicans here who have been advised of Villa's antipathy toward Carranza say the breach has been healed but temporarily. They say Villa will remain quietly in northern Mexico and when Carranza reaches Mexico City and a conference of generals is called, Villa will make vigorous demands for a share in the government or in the promotions of his friends. Villa's potential strength, will be his position in northern Mexico, for it is said, he will let envoys argue his case for him in the capital.

Many Disquieting Reports.

As to Zapata, many disquieting reports are reaching Washington diplomats. One South American minister had a telegram from his consul general in Mexico City, saying merely: "The situation here looks very dark." It was presumed this referred to uneasiness as to whether the constitutionalists would enter Mexico City peacefully, or take it arbitrarily without previous agreement. The Zapatistas are reported active and liable to take advantage of the unsettled situation to force an entry into Mexico City.

The attitude of the future government in Mexico toward federal court decisions under Huerta was the subject of a conference today between solicitors of the state department and representatives of oil interests in Mexico.

American citizens, it was stated, generally have been satisfied, but unrest has been caused by the fear that an arbitrary annullment of all previous decrees will follow the assumption of power by the constitutionalists.

LENIENCY ADVOCATED BY GENERAL CARRANZA

Victoria, Mex., July 22.—(Via Laredo, Tex., July 23.)—General Carranza today advocated leniency in "treatment of the conquered by the victorious constitutionalists," his statement was made in a speech at a banquet rendered by Victoria citizens.

General Carranza said that it must never be forgotten that all Mexicans are brothers, but declared he could not extend the hand of brotherhood to those directly implicated in the deaths of Francisco Madero, and Pino Suarez. No leniency, he said, could be expected for those who took an active part in the crime of overthrowing the constitutional government of Mexico and the murder of the president and vice president.

To Observe the Laws.

No fear should be felt, however, that snap judgment would be taken on any man, he continued. The law would be observed strictly and those charged with participating in the crime would be judged according to the law.

General Carranza concluded by introducing two Americans, Captain G. Hopkins, of Washington, legal adviser to the constitutionalists in the United States, and John R. Silliman, personal representative of President Wilson. General Carranza said both had been true friends of the Mexican people and were familiar with the principles of the revolt. Captain Hopkins, he said, had not only been instrumental in bringing the Madero revolution to a successful cogclusion as confidential agent and adviser to Madero in the United States, but had been the first American to offer his services in the present revolution and to come to his assistance since that time. He said Captain Hopkins' services had been most faithful and his advice of the greatest benefit to the constitutionalist cause.

Silliman Is Cheered.

In response, Mr. Silliman congratulated General Carranza and assured the guests present that the great republic of the north would be the sincere friend of the Mexican people. A storm of cheering greeted Mr. Silliman's speech and hearty vivas for the United States, the American people, President Wilson and Mr. Silliman.

As one basis of his hope of peaceful termination of the revolution, Carranza pointed out that of the men whose elimination he had declared indispensable about a year ago, not one now remains in Mexico.

W. W. O'HARA CONFERS WITH GOVERNOR CRAIG

North Carolina to Have Exhibit Building at Exposition in San Francisco.

W. Walton O'Hara, commissioner for the southern states to the Panama-Pacific world's exposition at San Francisco in 1915, has just returned to Atlanta from a trip to Asheville, N. C., where he went to consult with Governor Craig, who spends his summers there.

Commissioner O'Hara declared that the $60,000 proposed by North Carolina for an exhibit was too much, and that this amount was sufficient for both an exhibit and an exhibit building. Governor Craig said that he would recommend that the money be used for a building also.

Mr. O'Hara is in receipt of a telegram from J. P. Felt and W. N. Connolly, two prominent men of Florida, who are at present in San Francisco, in which they thank him for having aroused interest enough in Florida to induce the state to think of taking part in this, "the biggest and best international exposition ever projected."

"The character and conduct of the exposition and state officials thoroughly satisfy us of not only fair but magnanimous treatment. We believe the whole south will be greatly benefited if it will get into the game. Every southern state ought to be in, for while California has us beaten as to scenery, we can show them many things which will open their eyes."

A bill is now before the legislature to appropriate money for Georgia's exhibition. Twenty-five thousand bronze badges, souvenirs of the exposition, will be sold at a dollar each to help raise the funds, and public subscription will be relied upon to complete the necessary amount.

GOVERNMENT AID DENIED TO NELMS

Postoffice Department May Make an Investigation, But No Decision Has Yet Been Made.

Marshall Nelms' visit to Washington for the purpose of invoking the aid of the federal government in the nation-wide search for his strangely missing sisters, Miss Beatrice Nelms and Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis, of Atlanta, proved futile Thursday afternoon.

The dispatch from Washington follows:

(By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 23.—(Special.)—Efforts to have the department of justice take up the search for Mrs. Elois Nelms Dennis and Miss Beatrice Nelms will probably prove unavailing. The postoffice department, however, may take up the case.

Marshall Nelms, brother of the girls who have so mysteriously disappeared, came to Washington today to lay the case before the department of justice and the postoffice department. He saw Senator Hoke Smith and secured a letter of introduction from him. Later he submitted the facts in his possession to Joe P. Johnson, chief inspector of the postoffice department. He charges fraudulent use of the mails on part of Victor E. Innes, of Portland, Ore., who has been mentioned in connection with the disappearance mystery. No decision has been reached on the case.

No Action by Government.

At the department of justice it was said that no machinery had been set in motion to locate the two missing girls.

"The deparment is not an institution for the location of missing persons," said one of the officials. "If evidence is submitted to show that the Mann white slave law was violated, we will take up the case, but no proof of this kind has as yet been offered."

Mr. Nelms wearied over the long and fruitless search for his missing sisters, was steeped in dejection today.

"It looks to me like a foul murder has been committed," he said. "I will submit my evidence to the governmental departments. That is all I can do."

The Atlanta End.

While the attempt to secure the aid of the government authorities in the hunt for his sisters was being made in Washington by young Nelms, the Atlanta end of the investigation proceeded along on entirely new lines. Attorney Arnold, wishing to leave no stone unturned in discovering if Miss Beatrice Nelms had any motive in leaving Atlanta with the secret idea of not returning, ordered that a thorough investigation be made into the status of her business affairs.

This involved a thorough inspection of all her business papers, and interviews with all her business acquaintances with a view of determining if her affairs were in such a condition as to furnish a motive for her mysterious disappearance.

Detective W. F. Harper, specially assigned by Chief Beavers to assist in the investigation here, declared that his search of an entire day revealed no motive, and that the young business woman's affairs were in excellent shape. He stated that $8,000 commission on one real estate deal was awaiting her return.

Detective Harper located W. O. Shellnut, salesman for a medicine company, the Atlanta man whose name was mentioned in the strange and almost illegible postcard and letter received by Mrs. Nelms from "C. Allen, of Canton, N. C." Allen had furnished information to the effect that Shellnut was connected with the disappearance of the Nelms sisters. Mr. Shellnut readily explained to the detective that he knew nothing of the mystery.

Developments of Thursday threw no light on the mysterious identity of a hypnotist who rented quarters at 26 Luckie street, three years ago, although two Atlanta women have identified the picture of Innes as this man.

Not Body of Miss Nelms.

The following dispatch from Galveston, Texas, Thursday afternoon, showed conclusively that the woman found dead early Tuesday morning on the Denver beach there, was not Miss Beatrice Nelms, as was at first believed by many:

Galveston, Texas, July 23.—Dr. Marie C. Schaefer, of San Antonio, today after examining the body of the woman found dead on Denver Beach here Tuesday, positively identified as that of a former resident of San Antonio. Dr. Schaefer declined to make the name of the woman public. She declared that it was a case of suicide as a letter had been received by San Antonio relatives of the dead woman in which she stated she intended taking her life because of ill-health.

According to Sheriff Thomas the woman was connected with one of the best known families in Texas.

HE SHOT AT FEET OF PEDESTRIANS TO MAKE 'EM DANCE

Kansas City, Mo., July 23.—Bert Brent, 22 years old, just arrived from Philadelphia, was arrested on a downtown street today charged with shooting at the feet of pedestrians to make them dance.

Brent, who was dressed picturesquely in leather "chaps" and armed with a revolver in a brass-studded holster, expressed surprise when Judge Kennedy, in the north side municipal court, informed him that such actions were not customary in Kansas City, and fined him $50.

"Why, I thought everybody carried a gun and did a little shooting when they felt like it, out here in the west," he said, as he was led away.

STRIKING MOB CHARGED BY MOUNTED SOLDIERS

St. John, N. B., July 23.—During three hours of rioting tonight in connection with the street car strike here soldiers charged a mob of a thousand persons in Market square. Cars were overturned and burned in the square, firemen in a power house were stoned and driven from work and the city was left without lights for a time.

The disorder was the most serious in this city in forty years. At midnight quiet had been restored, but in an expectation of further trouble tomorrow troops will be on guard in force.

The trouble began early in the evening and when the situation began to look serious at 8:30 o'clock Mayor Frink read the riot act.

A half hour later when Market square was filled with a demonstrating mob of large size, seven cavalrymen of the Royal Canadian Dragoons charged through the mob, riding down rioters. Stones and bottles were rained upon the little company of soldiers. Lieutenant Stettin was cut about the head and was removed to a hospital. William Bennett, a dredge worker, was shot in the thigh by a detective who was defending himself from an attack by the mob. Introduction of strike breakers led to the disorders tonight.

PHYSICIANS PLAN TO KEEP BUSINESS RATING OF PATIENTS

The Fulton County Medical society will hold a special meeting at Carnegie library next Friday night for the purpose of organizing a Physicians' Business association, the object of which is to keep a rating of patients according to the way they pay their bills. This information, states the call card of the meeting, is to be tabulated and distributed among the members of the association in order that collections may be facilitated, imposition on the physicians avoided and justice done to the poor but honest people.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

There is a big treat in store for the vaudeville patrons of Atlanta next week, for Jack Wilson, one of the funniest men in vaudeville, will be the headliner of the bill at the Forsyth. Wilson has plenty of material of his own, but he always makes his act a still funnier one by standing in the wings listening to the lines of the other actors and then telling the audience all about these folks when his own time comes. A fine supporting bill has been promised. Those who have not yet seen the bill at the Forsyth this week have just four more opportunities. William Sisto is making them laugh every day and the Edwards boys are keeping up the Edwards record for success.

"One Wonderful Night."

(At the Grand.)

The Grand management made no mistake in extending the engagement of "One Wonderful Night" for the remainder of this week, as is attested by the large patronage. Francis X. Bushman plays the lead in this stirring four-reel feature and is given splendid support by Miss Beverly Bayne and a star cast of Essanay players. Four performances are given daily at 2:00, 3:30, 7:30 and 9:00 o'clock.

Eugene Walter's great play, "The Wolf," in picture form comes to the Grand for a week's engagement opening Monday. Film experts in New York proclaim this picture the greatest ever turned out by the Lubin company and the Grand management expects it to prove a big attraction.

"Lena Rivers."

(At the Bijou.)

The week which began so auspiciously Monday at the Bijou is bringing splendid crowds to the popular playhouse at every performance and there is good reason to predict one of the biggest weeks of the season for "Lena Rivers." The Jewell Kelley company showed rare good judgment in the selection of this bill, as few plays are more popular or have proven stronger drawing cards. "Lena Rivers" will be the bill the remainder of the week.

The company has in rehearsal for next week "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

$5,000 REWARD OFFERED FOR WOULD-BE ASSASSIN

Man Who Shot Dr. McIntosh Badly Wanted—Blease Regrets the Shooting.

Columbia, S. C., July 23.—A reward of $5,000 for the arrest and conviction of the man who early today shot Dr. James H. McIntosh, well-known physician, of Columbia, was offered late today bp J. W. Norwood, a Greenville banker. Citizens of Columbia launched a campaign to raise $1,000 for the arrest of the assailant. Officers today pressed the search for the man, who is supposed to have made his getaway in an automobile.

The shooting of Dr. McIntosh was the immediate subject for attacks on lawlessness in South Carolina by candidates for the United States senate speaking here and the state office candidates at Walterboro. The governor in his speech today said that he regretted the incident very much.

Dr. McIntosh was resting well at a hospital tonight and his condition is not considered serious.

The shooting of Dr. McIntosh, whose name was recently brought into the senatorial campaign in view of an interview he issued stating that a man paroled by Governor Blease had been feigning paralysis, has caused intense excitement throughout the city and state.

Governor Blease had previously stated that he would call Dr. McIntosh to the stand when the senatorial candidates spoke in Columbia today and answer the question asked at Greenville as to his statement regarding the paroled man.

Dr. McIntosh stated that his assailant shouted as he fled: "Now you won't bother Colie tomorrow." Bloodhounds from the state penitentiary took up the trail, but lost it after a few blocks. It is generally believed that the would-be assassin escaped in an automobile.

The following statement in regard to the shooting was issued from Governor Blease's office early today by John K. Aull, the governor's secretary.

"Governor Blease regrets the occurrence very much, as I do. I have a very high personal regard for Dr. McIntosh and know that the governor has also. The governor's office will lend all possible aid for the apprehension of the party or parties guilty of the assault."

GETTING GOOD SUPPORT, DECLARES HUTCHENS

Rome, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—G. R. Hutchens, of Rome, candidate for the United States senate to fill the unexpired term of Senator Bacon, addressed the people of Floyd county at the courthouse tonight. Mr. Hutchens gave an account of the progress of his campaign, and declared that he was receiving splendid support from the voters throughout the state. He expects the seventh district with the possible exception of one county, and declares that he is strong through north Georgia and will also receive good support in south Georgia. Mr. Hutchens discussed the record of his several opponents in an interesting fashion.

The next address in the senatorial campaign will be that of Hon. Thomas W. Hardwick, who will speak on Monday, August 3, at the courthouse. Hon. T. S. Felder has not yet made any arrangements to speak to the people of Floyd.

Charging That Trio Broke In Home While at Funeral, He Enters Suit for $5,000

Alleging that, following considerable quarreling with him and his family, J. M. Coker, George Wade and Mrs. Sylvania Hubbard were instrumental in breaking in the door of his home and throwing all his household goods and wearing apparel out into the rain while he and his wife were away from home sitting up with a dead child and attending the funeral, J. C. Brown has sued the trio for $5,000 in Fulton superior court.

Brown alleges that he rented a three-room cottage from J. R. Welchel, situated on property which Welchel bought from Mrs. Hubbard, near Buckhead, and that when he occupied it, Mrs. Hubbard and the others objected and they threatened to dispossess him.

On July 16 when he and his wife and baby returned from the funeral of a child of a friend they found their household goods lying in the yard and, he says, badly damaged by the weather. The case is set for the September term.

CHILD LABOR BILL BRINGS ON DEBATE

Sheppard Bill Causes Lively Discussion in the House Thursday—Arguments Will Be Resumed Today.

The child labor bill was debated in the house Thursday morning and was still under discussion at the hour of adjournment. The debate will be resumed again Friday morning and a vote will probably be reached at about noon.

Those who spoke for the bill Thursday were, Mr. Blackburn, of Fulton; Mr. Dorough, of Franklin; Mr. Olive, of Richmond, and Mr. Smith, of DeKalb.

Those speaking against the bill were, Mr. Ransom, of Chattooga; Mr. Moon, of Troupe, and Mr. Akin, of Glynn.

Mr. Blackburn said that it was high time that the state of Georgia should hold out a protecting arm to the little children who are slaving out their lives in sweatshops. He asserted that the mills by the employment of child labor prevented men and women from earning a just compensation. He stated that unless Georgia through her lawmakers saved these little children there would be no other power on earth to save them, as lazy parents wanted their children to work and the mills were only too glad to get them.

Says Present Law Is Sufficient.

Mr. Ransom, speaking against the bill, said it was better to let a boy help his mother make a living than for him to be turned loose a vagrant on the street. He claimed that the present child labor law was all-sufficient and that to make the limit 14 years would be to turn out a great herd of loafing boys who would become criminals as well as vagrants. He took the position that to make a boy earn his living was the best way to make a good man of him.

Mr. Dorough said that it was the money interests that were against the child labor bill. He stated that the bill did not prohibit boys and girls from working in stores, offices or on the farms, but did seek to prevent them from wearing out their lives in sweatshops. The mill children, he said, are stoop shouldered, wrinkled and growing old before their time. In conclusion he exclaimed: "I would rather kiss down the eyelids of my children in the sleep eternal than to see them to work in a cotton mill."

Mr. Moon, who spoke against the bill, said that he had offered a substitute which eliminated the educational qualifications. He took the position that if a child between the ages of 6 and 14 had not availed itself of the opportunity to get an education, it was useless to provide that it should not work when under 16 years of age if it was not educated. He said that the cotton mills were the best places in which children could earn a living. So far from the mills injuring children physically it was a fact, he stated, that some of the finest baseball players in the world came from the cotton mills. He stated that the cotton mills did not overwork the children and provided good schools at their own expense. He said he was certain that if children were kept out of the mills Georgia would soon be overrun with vagrants.

Olive Speaks for Bill.

Mr. Olive, of Richmond, speaking for the bill, said that there were two things which caused cotton mills to fail; one was cotton futures and the other child labor. He said the mills were not primarily to blame but were victims of a bad system. The parents were first to blame and the mills took advantage of the situation. It is the duty of the state, he told the members of the house, to help the helpless and to take special care of little children. Cotton mill children, he said, made weak and sickly citizens and civilization was made up from this source with stunted and diseased men and women. In conclusion he called upon the members of the house to take sides with Georgia's helpless children.

Mr. Akin in discussing the bill declared it was a bad and useless piece of legislation. It was his opinion that if the children were not allowed to work in the mills they would be uneducated because the state was not prepared at this time to look after them. He said that there was no doubt that Georgia had enough laws to regulate child labor and to pass the Sheppard bill would be to carry out the visionary dream of a sentimentalist.

His First Speech of Session.

Mr. Smith, of DeKalb, in advocating the bill, made his first speech in the house at this session. He stated he was a plain business man and no orator, but he felt it his duty to raise his voice in behalf of the working children who were being made to toil to support vagrant fathers. He said that children in the mills were weakened both physically and mentally and that undertakers found the best business in cotton mill towns. He said that those opposing the bill were claiming that it was a business proposition. It is business, he said, the state's business, to see that little children are not made to toil where their lives were blighted and their bodies and minds turned to physical wrecks.

The debate on the child labor bill will be resumed when the house meets Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Among the new bills introduced in the house Thursday was one by Mr. Glenn, of Whitfield, to abolish the death sentence as a punishment for crime in Georgia.

Local Bills Passed.

The following local bills were passed by the house:

To authorize Bibb county to hold an election to issue bonds not exceeding $250,000 to build bridges and not exceeding $1,000,000 for road building.

To add the city of Woodbury to the list of state depositories.

To incorporate the town of Attapulgus, Decatur county.

To extend the terms of school trustees in the city of Dalton.

To amend the charter of the town of Logansville in Walton and Gwinnett counties.

Now on Her Honeymoon

MRS. FLORENCE MARTHA PICKARD-HARRISON,

Two Boys Bound Over On Charge of Dynamiting Postoffice Safe in Tenn.

Two young Atlanta boys were held under bond by Federal Commissioner Carter at their commitment trial Thursday charged with dynamiting the United States postoffice safe at East Lake, Tenn., on the night of March 30.

Their names were Cleo Brown, who lives on Burns street, and Robert Cline, who lives at No. 7 Lucy street. Brown turned state's evidence. He was held under $1,000 bond, while Cline's bond was assessed at $2,000.

Brown and Cline were arrested recently by Plainclothes Policeman Sergeant George Bullard, and his partner, T. D. Shaw.

A third young Atlanta boy was connected with the government safe-cracking job at East Lake, according to the officers. His name is Jerry Farlow, of 67 Hightower street, who is at present in jail at Cedartown, Ga., accused of being connected with the murder of the night watchman of the Aragon cotton mills, at Aragon, Ga., the night of April 28, in an attempt to rob the mill safe.

doing everything possible for her comfort and happiness.

No Hint of Desertion.

"And there is not a hint in the letters that there is a thought of his deserting her. I am at a loss, therefore, to know who started so cruel a report. She did express a wish for her mother to be with her, also to be at home, but what is more natural for one who has had her mother with her hourly for years in her ill health?

"Whether the marriage, under the circumstances, will prove happy or not none of us can say now. But if not, common decency demands that no one will assume to perpetrate a cruel falsehood in the papers. If she finds that a great mistake was made, and that it was done because she was ill and not in control of her normal will power, she is the one to decide and take the initiative and nobody else.

"I am hoping that this will stop the pens of the false sensationalists, and that after this she may be permitted to speak for herself. She is ignorant of all these stories, here, else she would have spoken already."

SERVIA THREATENED BY AUSTRIA-HUNGARY

Sharp Note Sent About Assassination of the Archduke and His Wife.

Vienna, July 23.—An Austro-Hungarian note to Servia containing demands for the suppression of the Pan-Servian movement and the punishment of those concerned in the assassination of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, was presented to the government at Belgrade at 6 o'clock this evening. The note requests a reply by 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

Summary of the Note.

Belgrade, Servia, July 23.—The Servian government received tonight a note from the Austro-Hungarian government bearing on the relations between the two countries and dealing directly with the assassination at Sara Yevo on June 28 of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austrian throne.

The note reviews relations with Servia since 1909, and complains that, although the Servian government promised loyalty to the Austro-Hungarian government, it has failed to suppress subversive movements and agitations by the newspapers; that this tolerance has incited the Servian to hatred of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy and contempt for its institution. This, says the note, culminated in the Sara Yevo assassination, which are proved by depositions and confessions of the perpetrators to have been hatched at Belgrade, the arms and explosives having been supplied by connivance of Servian officers and functionaries.

"The Austro-Hungarian government," continues the note, "is unable longer to pursue an attitude of forbearance and sees the duty imposed upon it to put an end to the intrigues which form a perpetual menace to the monarchy's transquillity. It, therefore, demands from the Servian government formal assurance that it condemns the dangerous propaganda whose aim is to detach from the monarchy a portion of its territory and also that the Servian government shall no longer permit these machinations and this criminal, perverse propaganda."

CHARTER AMENDMENTS OPPOSED BY WOODWARD

After Mayor's Talk, Atlanta Bill Is Referred to Fulton Representatives.

When the house committee on municipal government Thursday afternoon took up the bill to make certain amendments to the charter of Atlanta, Mayor James G. Woodward was present for the purpose of making a very vigorous protest against some of the provisions of the proposed amendments.

The mayor objected to the amendment giving council the power to elect a chairman to a city board when the board had failed to elect after the expiration of thirty days. He also objected to the amendment giving the city the right to condemn street and sidewalk pavements unless the property owners, or at least a majority of them, signed a petition for a new pavement.

"I am opposed to council electing a board chairman," he told the committee, "unless the board makes a nomination. I believe the present law works all right. I do not think it is right to allow the city to condemn pavements unless the people have some voice in the matter. I say give the people a showing."

"Abolish All Boards."

When asked by Judge Piquett, of Augusta, what he thought about boards, Mayor Woodward replied:

"I believe the city would be better off if all the boards were abolished."

City Attorney James L. Mayson was present to represent the city council. He told the committee that council had voted for the proposed charter amendments, and he believed the amendments asked for were equitable and right.

All three of the Fulton county representatives were present. Mr. Blackburn said he did not feel quite satisfied about the city being given the right to oil paved streets unless fully two-thirds of the property owners signed a petition to that effect. The charter amendment called for one-half of the property owners.

Needed a Thrashing Out.

Messrs. Cochran and Smith stated that they thought the whole matter should be further thrashed out, and the members of the committee agreed with them. So the bill was referred to the three Fulton county representatives. It will probably be taken up by the committee again this afternoon.

Besides the amendments mentioned above the bill calls for the creation of the office of consulting city engineer, the fixing of building lines, the fixing of salaries of city officials in the year preceding election and the changing of the location of Elswald street.

Appropriations Made.

The house committee on appropriations acted favorably on the following bills:

To make repairs at the agricultural experiment station, $2,500; to pay expenses of the state board of education, $430; to pay expenses of the department of commerce and labor, $900; to erect buildings for the state sanitarium, $66,209; to pay for a new freight rate classification made by the railroad commission, $1,000.

At a meeting of the general agricultural committee No. 1, of the house, the chairman, Mr. Kimbrough, of Harris county, announced that he did not think his committee would hold any more meetings, as all business in sight had been disposed of. This was followed by many high compliments being paid the chairman and the chairman presenting the members with a basket of fruit. It was a very festive occasion of fruit, flowers and felicitations.

DEBT OF THE NATION BURDEN ON THE PEOPLE

Washington, July 23.—The debt of the national government is a greater financial weight upon the people of each state, except Arizona and Massachusetts, than the obligations of the state in which they live, according to statistics issued today by the census bureau.

The figures showed that on June 30, 1913, the per capita debt for the forty-eight states amounted to $3.57, while that of the national government was $10.59. The total debt of the state governments on that date was $422,796,525. An off-setting item was $76,980,571 in sinking fund assets.

The national government had a total debt at the end of June, last year, amounting to $2,916,204,914. However, less cash in the United States treasury available for the payment of debt, that would be reduced to $1,028,564,055.

The report showed that only in Arizona and Massachusetts does the state debt, less sinking fund assets, amount to more per capita than that of the national government.

PURE BEER GETS ADVERSE REPORT

Bill Exempting From Taxation College Endowments, When Not Invested in Real Estate, Favored.

Senator McNeil's bill legalizing the sale of pure beer in Georgia, which was reported favorably by the temperance committee of the senate last week and then re-referred to that committee, was reported adversely Thursday afternoon by a unanimous vote.

Only seven members of the committee were present. Nine members were present when the bill was reported favorably and the bill was re-referred on the grounds that such a small per cent of the committee were present. The committee membership is fifteen.

The bill permitting the exemption from taxation by the general assembly of Georgia of the endowment of colleges and incorporated academies and other seminaries of learning when the same was not invested in real estate was reported favorably by the committee on constitutional amendments of the senate yesterday afternoon by a unanimous vote.

The bill was introduced by Senator W. D. McNeil, of the twenty-second, at the request of Bishop Warren A. Candler. Bishop Candler spoke before the committee, pointing out the fact that it was already the law in South Carolina, and urging the necessity of such legislation.

The committee on roads and revenues of the senate reported favorably a bill of Senator Harrell's making it unlawful to throw rubbish, glass or nails upon public highways.

C. M. E. CONFERENCE HEARS ABLE SPEECHES

Bishop Holsey and Dr. C. M. Manning made addresses at the second day's session of the C. M. E. conference, which was held at West Mitchell Street church.

The effect of itineracy was discussed by Rev. M. Wright, of Jackson, Ga.

During the discussion it was brought out that some pastors injure the work of the church by speaking carelessly and acting indifferently towards their successors.

Rev. C. C. Neal made a motion that a committee on agreement be appointed and if it is found that any man by acts or words throws hindrance in his successor's way, he should be sent before this committee.

Rev. H. K. Sanders, of Cornelia, Ga., introduced the subject, "The Origin and Purpose of Methodism."

Professor J. B. F. Prather spoke with force and power on the subject.

Rev. M. Jones, of the Danielville circuit, preached at 11 o'clock, Acts 12:11. After the calling of the various committees, conference adjourned.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES ARE IN BAD IN MACON

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Private detectives are in bad in Macon following the recent arrest of Ben Atwater in connection with the shooting of Cliff Cook recently, to which a negro arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Leland Williams has confessed. Since the negro's confession Atwater has been released from jail.

It is understood that an effort will be made to have the mayor and council revoke the license of the Southern States Detective agency, of which A. W. Stokes, now in jail charged with the murder of V. C. Thomason a few weeks ago, and W. S. Lane are proprietors. It was they who caused the arrest of Atwater, Charles Cook, brother of Cliff Cook, stating that he took out the warrant for the arrest of Atwater for assault with intent to murder on evidence furnished him by the detectives. It is said that the detectives had enough circumstantial evidence worked up to convict Atwater, or at least give him considerable trouble in the courtroom. Atwater's friends are indignant that he should have been arrested without more positive knowledge being secured.

INDUSTRIAL FLOATS IN PARADE APPROVED

Chamber of Commerce Will Aid Labor Organizations in Big Celebration.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has given hearty indorsement to the labor day parade this year. A circular letter has been sent out by the industrial bureau of the chamber, addressed to the merchants and manufacturers of the city approving the plan to make a special feature of industrial floats in the parade, such floats to represent all lines of business conducted by the merchants, both wholesale and retail, and the manufacturers of the city.

The parade will afford an excellent advertising opportunity, and it is probable that this year's exhibition will be greater than any yet given. Following is the letter sent out by the bureau:

To the Merchants and Manufacturers of Atlanta: We are advised by our friends of the labor organizations in Atlanta that it is very desirable in addition to the usual features of their annual parade to make a special feature of industrial floats representing the various lines of business conducted by the merchants and manufacturers of Atlanta. We believe that a successful parade embodying this feature would reflect credit upon every department of Atlanta's industrial and commercial progress, and we therefore desire to give the suggestion of our hearty approval.

BIBB COURT IS ASKED TO REMOVE CABINESS

Macon, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—The petition to the superior court of Bibb county, asking the removal of Harley Cabiness as one of the members of the board of tax equalizers, on the ground that he is not a freeholder, and, therefore, not qualified to hold office, was filed this morning, and Judge Mathews set the case for a hearing on August 14. The petition was filed by attorneys representing a committee appointed by a recent mass meeting.

The committee contends that it is not a question of assessing mortgages, but entirely as to whether or not Mr. Cabiness is legally entitled to hold office. They contend that he is not, since he has returned no property for taxation, and, therefore, is not a freeholder.

On the other hand, Mr. Cabiness claims that he is a freeholder, declaring that he owns land in this county. If he does, however, it is returned in someone else's name, for it does not appear on the tax books under his own name.

$5,000 FOR SPRING ST. APPROVED BY ALDERMEN

Money Will Be Used to Buy Right-of-Way Through Rhodes Property.

Spring street residents are elated today over the action of the aldermanic board in approving the city's $5,000 appropriation for the purpose of buying a right of way through the Rhodes property to make the street an open thoroughfare from the center of the city to Brookwood. The Spring street measure was the most important measure before the board at the meeting yesterday.

It will be recalled that the property-owners recently made the city a proposal under which they agreed to donate a certain amount of money provided the city gave $5,000 to make possible the opening of the street at Fourteenth street. The general council passed favorably on the measure at a recent meeting but when it reached the aldermanic board it was held up because some of the members declared that the resolutions was technically illegal.

At the last meeting of the council a conference committee composed of councilmen and aldermen went over the proposed measure, put it in legal shape, and referred it back to the aldermen.

It is now in shape for the signature of Mayor Woodward who is heartily in favor of the appropriation as well as the improvement.

Wedding of Miss Harrington And Mr. Chas. Edward Jarvis

The marriage of Miss Hilda Scharf Harrington and Mr. Charles Edward Jarvis, Jr., took place last night at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Scharf, 375 Capitol avenue, Dr. Russell K. Smith officating.

Mr. Rouse Ellington was best man. Miss Jennie May Calloway was maid of honor; Mrs. Sadie Ray was matron of honor, and little Miss Tyree Crawford was flower girl.

The house was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns, roses and lilies.

The ceremony took place in the library before an improvised altar of palms and ferns.

The bride entered with her uncle, Dr. Carl Scharf, who gave her in marriage, and met the groom and his best man at the altar.

She was lovely in her bridal gown of white crepe meteor. Her tulle veil was caught with a chaplet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and valley lilies.

The maid of honor wore white shadow lace, with a high girdle of pink taffeta, and carried pink killarney roses.

The matron of honor wore white lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white bride roses.

Little Miss Tyree Crawford, the flower girl wore a dainty gown of white and carried a basket of white and pink roses.

The brides aunt, Mrs. Scharf, was handsomely gowned in gray crepe de chine, the corsage trimmed in lace. Mrs. Charles Edward Jarvis, mother of the groom, wore black crepe de chine, with jet trimmings.

Immediately after the ceremony a formal reception was held, and a delicious supper was served.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Earl Cox, Mrs. Joseph Porter and Mrs. F. R. Crawford.

Miss Willie Wilson took charge of the bride's book, and Miss Emily Garwood, Miss Carrie Jennings, Miss Vick Copeland and Miss Mary Kate Davidson served punch.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hearst, of New York; Mr. William Welder, of New York, and Mr. Hugh Thatcher, of Sidney, Australia.

Caldwell-Shannon.

The marriage of Miss Leila Caldwell to Mr. Bascom Shannon, which occurred at the East Point Methodist church on the evening of July the 20th, was one of unusual interest to a large circle of friends.

The church was made beautiful in its decorations of white and green.

The improvised altar was formed by an embankment of palms and ferns. The chancel rail, before which the bridal party stood, was effective in its delicate tracery of smilax against a background of white.

The wedding march was played by Mrs. Clyde McKenzie. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and was attractive in her bridal gown of white crepe meteor with bodice of chantilly lace, and carrying a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. The bridal veil which fell gracefully over the train of her dress was held in place with orange blossoms. The bride was preceded by the maid of honor, Miss Leith Shannon, who was beautifully gowned in white lace over pink and carried pink roses. The bride was met at the altar by the groom, who entered the church with his best man, Mr. LeGare Davis.

The bridesmaids, Miss Fannie May Schell and Miss Janie Joiner, of Atlanta, were lovely in white lingerie over pink with bouquets of pink roses.

The groomsmen were Mr. Cecil Davis, of Warrenton, Ga., and Mr. W. D. Morgan. The ushers were Mr. Charlie Livsey and Mr. Bob Bailey.

The ceremony was performed in a very impressive manner by Rev. George W. Yarbrough, of Winder, assisted by Rev. Frank Hudson.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were tendered a reception at the home of the bride, after which the bride and groom left for a two weeks' camp in the mountains of North Georgia.

Mrs. Shannon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Caldwell, of East Point, and her many friends regret that her marriage will take her to Fitzgerald, Ga., where Mr. Shannon is prominently connected with the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad.

Rev. W. W. Memminger Reported Doing Well, After an Operation

Reverend W. W. Memminger, rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, was operated on Wednesday afternoon at Biltmore hospital, Biltmore, N. C., for appendicitis. Telegrams received by friends in the city yesterday stated that the operation was successful and that Mr. Memminger was doing well. The news will be of interest to countless friends of Mr. Memminger not only in Atlanta, but in Charleston, his native city.

Mr. Memminger left Atlanta Tuesday for Biltmore, and was joined there by Mrs. Memminger, who, with their children, are spending the summer at Flat Rock. He is expected home the first of September. In his absence the pulpit of All Saints' is being filled by Bishop Nelson, bishop of the Atlanta diocese.

SAVANNAH LABOR PARTY SPLIT FOR FIRST TIME

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—For the first time organized labor in Savannah is split. The cause of the difference is Joseph McCarthy, representative in the legislature. The Trades and Labor council has turned him down and nominated T. E. Smith, president of the labor organization. Mr. McCarthy, who has been the labor member from Chatham county for several terms, probably will make the race as an independent.

Humane Society Needs Funds, Says President R. C. Congdon

R. C. Congdon, manager of the Atlanta Gas company, who was recently elected president of the Atlanta Humane society, is making every effort to stir up interest in this organization. In order to do efficient work it is necessary that the society have a sufficient income to back its efforts and at least two officers continually at work to prevent inhumane treatment of animals.

In appealing to the public for this fund, Mr. Congdon said the society appreciated the donations which had been made from time to time. However, the money received had been quickly spent in the campaign and more funds are urgently needed.

Mr. Congdon believes systematic education better than many arrests. Instances of whipping and the use of the checkrein are not the kind of cruelty that would most concern an efficient official. The carrying for long distances of chickens in bunches with tightly bound legs and hanging heads and horses working when sick are greater evils, he believes. Properly qualified officials and an educated public would quickly remove many horses now being worked daily, he said, and would put an end to cabmen circumventing the horse-inspection ordinance.

Further, the city is poorly furnished with places to water stock. This is largely due to the objections of people near whose premises the fountains should be placed.

Two fountains were offered the society a short time ago, but they had to be refused because there was no place they could be established. In lieu of these many observant people have placed tubs in front of their places with cards reading: "Water your horse here. If the tub is empty ring doorbell. No charge." Mr. Congdon said that one would be found in front of his house, and he also urges others to do likewise. The cards have been printed by the Lester Book and Stationery company, and have been kindly donated to the Humane society.

As a man, alive to the pressing need for effective action and desiring to gain practical results, Mr. Congdon asks for the establishment of a fund for the Humane society.

23 WORKERS TO RAISE $250 EACH FOR TECH

Prominent Business Men Guarantee to Secure This Amount at Luncheon Thursday.

Twenty-three well-known Atlanta men agreed yesterday afternoon to secure subscriptions amounting to two hundred and fifty dollars each at a rousing luncheon meeting at the Chamber of Commerce toward the closing of the fund of one hundred thousand dollars for Greater Tech.

Practically every man present at the meeting pledged himself to raise the two hundred and fifty dollars, and guaranteed his pledge to raise that amount. The guarantee of $5,750 raises the total of the fund nearly to the eighty thousand dollar mark.

Inspiring speeches were made by Mell Wilkinson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, J. T. Holleman, Wilmer Moore and others. Mr. Wilkinson introduced Mr. Holleman, who spoke earnestly in favor of the Tech campaign in a most convincing manner.

"We have witnessed as gallant a fight in this Tech campaign as has ever been led in Atlanta," said Mr. Holleman. "Mr. Hobson and his associates have secured nearly seventy-five thousand dollars of this fund, and are still securing subscriptions. They have not failed in any sense of the word—they have worn themselves out succeeding.

"This talk about Atlanta being tired of campaigns is a slander against the fair name of the city. One thing which has appealed to me about Atlanta is that the men of Atlanta hang together."

Among those who obligated themselves to secure two hundred and fifty dollars in the campaign were, Asa G. Candler, Mell R. Wilkinson, J. T. Holleman, and Brooks Morgan.

It is the purpose of the leaders of the campaign, who have brought it thus far, to get a number of other men to agree to secure subscriptions amounting to $250, until the entire sum has been secured, or guaranteed.

A number of tributes to the indefatigable efforts of J. R. A. Hobson, chairman of the executive committee of the campaign, and Dr. Matheson, president of Tech, were paid by the speakers at the luncheon yesterday.

WAS IT SCARRATT'S BODY?

Wade Harding Reports Seeing Corpse Near Cape Romaine.

Wade P. Harding, of Atlanta, just returned to the city by sea from New York and Savannah, reports that on his way down from New York passengers on the Ocean Steamship liner on which he traveled saw a body floating in the water off Cape Romaine, North Carolina.

At the time the body was seen the ship was about forty miles off Wrightsville Beach, where George Scarratt, of Atlanta, was drowned about two weeks ago. The captain of the ship was not notified of the passing of the body until the ship had gotten too far to turn back.

Mr. Harding says the body was plainly seen floating in an upright position but whether or not it was that of Mr. Scarratt of course will never be known.

The officials of the Ocean Steamship line have been requested to keep a close watch out.

WARMER WEATHER EXPECTED TODAY; IT WILL BE CLEAR

Another fine day is indicated for Atlanta and vicinity. The weather, however, will gradually become warmer, and it is expected that the 7 a. m temperature on Friday will be 78 degrees, and that the maximum of the day will slightly exceed 90 degrees. Winds will shift to southerly and the air become somewhat drier. Comparatively few clouds will appear and no shower is expected in the evening. Saturday will probably also be fair.

BOSTON WANTS YELLOW TRANSPARENT APPLES

The Constitution has received the following telegram from Louis B. Magid, vice president of the Georgia Apple Growers association, who is now in Boston, Mass.:

Boston, Mass., July 23.—The Constitution, Atlanta: While here on other business by chance I exhibited a specimen of yellow transparent apples taken from three year old tree on my Tallulah orchard to a large Boston fruit merchant. He offered to take several carloads at from two fifty to three dollars per bushel. Box delivered in Boston, freight and other charges, would be about fifty cents leaving groves at least two dollars net per box. As my forty thousand apple tree orchard is three years old I cannot supply, therefore, I wire you to give publicity. Perhaps some Georgia groves are able to supply. He can wire me Hotel Essex. Georgia early apples three to five weeks ahead of other sections and good prices obtainable. My samples created considerable interest as no one ever saw at this season so large and beautiful apples. Am much more encouraged in my three hundred thousand dollar orchard investment at Tallulah.

I am for Georgia and apples.

SENATE SEETHES WITH SPICY TALKS

Huie Fires Hot Shots at Kea and McGregor and They, in Return, Fire Volley in His Direction.

The members of the state senate were aroused from the lethargy of routine legislation Thursday morning when Senators Huie, Kea and McGregor engaged in spicy speeches on the ground of personal privilege.

The festivities were occasioned by the remark of Senator Kea Wednesday, in the debate on the redistricting of the senatorial districts of the state, that Senator Huie was being unduly influenced by President Anderson and that he felt sorry "for the old man."

Senator Huie said that he had introduced the bill increasing the senatorial districts of the state before he had ever met President Anderson. He remarked that he would not hesitate to follow the lead of an able man like Mr. Anderson in many cases.

"In any case, though, I would never follow the lead of the senator from the Sixteenth and if any member of this senate ever insinuates that I have been influenced by Senator Kea I will take it as a personal insult."

Senator Huie said that it was nobody's business but his own constituents as to the age of the man they sent to the legislature. He suggested that in the future if Senator Kea got some other member of the senate to write speeches for him they would have far more effect.

Replies to McGregor.

Senator McGregor came in for his share of the speech on the grounds that he had drawn a resolution making the members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce the "Third House of the Legislature." Senator Huie declared that this was a distinct insinuation against the gentlemen who were so vitally interested not only in the city of Atlanta but in the welfare of the state.

Jumping to his feet at the conclusion of Senator Huie's remarks, Senator Kea, said that after hearing the remarks of the senator from the thirty-fifth, he still felt sorry for "the old man."

"He looks to me like a child in a strange land and I cannot but sympathize with the old man whether he appreciates it or not. It does seem to me that the people of the Thirty-fifth district would send a representative with some ability to the state senate, Mr. President and gentlemen of the senate."

McGregor Explains.

Senator McGregor then took his turn. He first stated that he was unconsciously misrepresented when it was said that he had introduced any such resolution referring to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. "I said that I might at some future time introduce such a resolution."

At this juncture he read a letter from the Chamber of Commerce notifying him that that body had passed resolutions against the passage of a certain bill and requesting him to vote against it. He said that he thought there was some law against lobbying and that these gentlemen could possibly be indicted and given hard seats in the penitentiary instead of nice comfortable seats in the gallery as he had proposed. Senator McGregor asserted in the course of his remarks that he meant no disrespect, directly or indirectly to the members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

The McCrory school book bill was set for a special order for yesterday and will be carried over until Friday morning when the arguments on the bill will be continued. Senator Allen introduced an amendment substituting in the list of books to be used Webster's Blue Back speller instead of the proposed one. A substitute bill was offered by Senator Irwin, giving the books to the common school children instead of selling them.

Sweat Favors Bill.

Senator Sweat spoke briefly in favor of the passage of the McCrory bill, declaring it had proved a great boon in other places and would save hundreds of thousands of dollars to the children of Georgia each year.

The remainder of the morning session was spent by Senator Miller in a speech against the bill, lasting more than two hours. Senator Miller will continue his speech this morning.

The senator, in prefacing his remarks declared that there had been many insinuations cast about the state that he was interested in some of the large book concerns. He absolutely denied this, stating that his only connection with them had been in the capacity of legal adviser on several cases.

He dwelt at length on the intimate details of the expenditure of publishing books and declared that the state would open a wedge to the state treasury which could never be closed if this bill was passed. Senator Miller referred at length to the school board of appointments of Governor Brown and Governor Smith over which there was an extended controversy.

Dr. Aven Appointed Chief of the Clinic Of Medical College

Dr. Carl C. Aven, who has been connected with the Atlanta Medical college since his gradaution in 1910, has been appointed chief of the clinic of that institution. He is now studying at the Harvard School of Medicine, in Boston, and will inspect institutions in Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia before assuming his duties in the fall.

DETECTIVES PRAISED BY CLARK HOWELL, SR.

Clark Howell, Sr., praised the work of two city detectives Thursday, when Ed Freeman, a negro, was indicted by the Fulton county grand jury on the charge of robbing his residence at 737 Peachtree street, recently.

Detectives Coker and Andrews answered the call to the Howell home and were furnished a description of Freeman by a negro servant of a next door neighbor, who had seen a negro leave the Howell residence.

In less than an hour's time the detectives had found Freeman on Decatur street, who confessed to the robbery, and told where he had placed $28 and a valuable revolver which he had stolen from the Howell home.

MANUFACTURING CO. SUED BY CENTRAL BANK

The Central Bank and Trust corporation, trustee for the bondholders of the Empire Mining and Manufacturing company, on Thursday filed suit against the latter company in Fulton superior court for the pyament of the principal sum and overdue 6 per cent semi-annual interest since January 1, of this year, on 80 first-mortgage bonds, valued at $25 each, and secured by certain lands in DeKalb county. The suit was filed by Attorneys Candler, Thomson & Hirsch, and the case was set for the September term.

Death of Col. Johnson Was Due to Accident Which Was Unavoidable

Following out the dying wish of his father, Colonel Fletcher M. Johnson, who died recently in Gainesville, that Mrs. Palmour, whose auto struck Colonel Johnson shortly before his death, be absolved of all blame, Hammond Johnson, son of the deceased has written The Constitution the following letter showing that the accident was unavoidable:

Gainesville, Ga., July 22, 1914.

Editor The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: Feeling that even the natural desire for an avoidance of all publicity in connection with the sad accident which resulted in the death of my father, Fletcher M. Johnson, on last Sunday, must be made subject to another duty that is owed to those who have always been very close and loved friends of him and his family, I ask of you to allow me brief space in your columns.

It is regretted very much that some of the press accounts of the accident and of my father's death, have contained expressions that, to those not knowing the circumstances, might give a wrong impression of how the accident occurred, since they stated that my father was run down by the car that struck him, thereby possibly creating the idea in the minds of some that his death was caused by reckless driving or carelessness. Such was not the case, for the automobile that struck him was being driven very carefully and very slowly at the time, and the occurrence was unavoidable and an accident for which no one was to blame. My father did not see the automobile and in an effort to catch the street car stepped from the curb directly in its path, so close in front of the machine that it was impossible to avoid his being struck.

Since there was a possibility of a wrong being done, Mrs. Palmour, who was driving the machine, by the fact that some of the expressions used might be capable of a wrong construction, and since my father's chief concern after the accident was that she should not worry over the occurrence for which she was not to blame, and that she should know that he did not attach any blame to her, the members of his family feel that they would be glad for this statement to be given to the public so that there can be no danger of any injustice being done any one.

Yours very truly,
HAMMOND JOHNSON.

GIVEN 3-YEAR SENTENCE

Former Inspector Convicted of Car-Breaking.

J. C. Matthews, former car inspector for the Georgia railroad, on Thursday was sentenced, upon being convicted of car-breaking, to serve a term of three years in the penitentiary by Judge Ben Hill, of the criminal division of Fulton superior court, who disregarded the recommendation of the jury for mercy.

This was the second trial of Matthews, the first trial several weeks ago resulting in a mistrial. He was convicted of breaking into a car and stealing 24 gallons of whisky and other merchandise, March 28.

WIDOW AND CHILDREN SHARE ROGERS ESTATE

Wilkinson, leaves his estate, consisting mainly of the Rogers home, 350 West Peachtree street, and stock in the L. W. No appraisal is made, but the value of the estate is variously estimated at from $40,000 to $80,000.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING, TOT SLIGHTLY BURNED

LaGrange, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Another instance of the queer play of lightning was seen here when the little 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Poythress, was struck and knocked down by a blinding flash, and was practically uninjured save for a slightly burned place on his forehead.

The little fellow was playing out in the front yard of his home when the accident occurred and was in the act of running towards the house when struck. He was seen to fall by his mother, who was in the house, and she immediately ran to his rescue and summoned a physician. In a few minutes, however, the little fellow had recovered and was none the worse for his thrilling experience.

"The New Methodist University and Its Possibilities" will be the subject of Bishop Warren A. Candler's address before the Atlanta District Methodist Episcopal conference, now in session. Bishop Candler will be the principal speaker of Friday's session.

At Thursday's session, resolutions indorsing the location of the new $5,000,000 Methodist university in Atlanta, and thanking Asa G. Candler for his $1,000,000 endowment, were adopted.

Bishop Denny preached the opening sermon of the conference, and will preside over all the meetings which will be held in the Martha Brown Memorial church in East Atlanta.

The following committees were appointed during the business session: On missions, Revs. John S. Jenkins, F. R. Hendrix, W. H. La Prade and H. Y. McCord. On local preachers, Dr. H. M. DuBose, Rev. L. UNABLE TO BUY DRUGS THEY BECOME DESPERATE

Rochester, N. Y., July 23.—Driven desperate by their inability to purchase habit-forming drugs since July 1, when the new state law prohibiting their sale became effective, eight young men, all victims of drugs, applied to the police yesterday and today and asked to be locked up. Several of the voluntary prisoners declared if they were not placed in confinement they feared they would either commit murder or suicide.

Steps have been taken to open a hospital for the treatment of drug victims.

ATLANTA SHOE JOBBERS WIN IN FREIGHT CASE

Petition of Carriers to Increase Rate Denied by Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Atlanta Freight Bureau won a distinct victory Thursday when the Interstate Commerce Commission cancelled the proposed increase in rail and water freight rates on boots and shoes from Boston and other northeastern ports to Atlanta.

The carriers attempted to increase the rate per hundred pounds from 95 cents to $1.05. The present rate of 95 cents was prescribed by the commission in the "Boston Shoe Case," decided November 27, 1909. The carriers attempted at that time to increase the rates to $1.05 per hundred pounds and when this was denied began action in the circuit court at Richmond, Va., to have the commission's decision set aside. Subsequently the proceeding was transferred to the commerce court, where it finally was dismissed by petition of the plaintiffs. The petition denied Thursday was then filed with the commission.

In the case decided Thursday as in their previous proceedings, the carriers argued that maintenance of the 95 cents rate to Atlanta would tend to disrupt their adjustment of rates to other points in the same general territory. The commission held that this consideration was not a sufficient cause for approving a rate found to be unreasonable.

W. A. Wimbish, of Wimbish & Ellis, attorney for the Atlanta Freight Bureau, was elated over the decision. He states that the decision is a great victory for the Atlanta shoe jobbers and for the retail trade.

N. E. HARRIS ADDRESSES BIG CROWD AT TOCCOA

Toccoa, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Judge N. E. Harris, of Macon, spoke here this afternoon to fully 400 voters, a crowd that waited for nearly two hours beyond the time his speaking was scheduled for. He was given a great ovation at his conclusion and his friends here declare that they will easily carry the county over L. G. Hardman, of Commerce.

It was here that Judge Harris took occasion the first time in this campaign to refer to his old-time and lifelong friendship for the late Alex. H. Stephens. Judge Harris declared that until the day of Mr. Stephens' death there had never been the slightest trouble between them and that when Bacon, his fellow-townsman, ran against Mr. Stephens, he, Harris, supported the latter. He said that Mr. Stephens sent for him when he was dying and that among his last coherent words was a direction to "give my love to Nat Harris."

At Cordele this morning Judge Harris spoke to a fairly large assemblage of voters and received many pledges. His friends there say he will carry Habersham easily. Tomorrow he is in Hartwell and Royston.

A STATE ON TRIAL.

The legitimate harvest of the ruffianism and anarchy which Cole Blease has imposed on South Carolina is shown in the attempted assassination of Dr. J. H. McIntosh, a well-known physician of Columbia. It is reported that as the assailant made his escape he cried:

"Now, you won't bother Colie (Blease) tomorrow."

Blease, it seems, had stated that a convict who made application for pardon had been certified as a paralytic by McIntosh. The latter replied in a signed statement, in which he said he had informed the governor the convict was feigning paralysis. Blease is running for the United States senate. He had challenged McIntosh to confront him on the platform in Columbia yesterday. The meeting might have been awkward for Blease.

What a welter of chaos and anarchy this whole incident shows to exist in South Carolina! The pardoning Blease, the man who delights in turning loose whole regiments of criminals on the state; the delectable Blease, who gratuitously insults the secretary of war, and then the governors of surrounding states; the ungovernable, anarchistic Blease, who draws around him such murderous cranks as the man who sought to assassinate in his name!

South Carolina is shortly to decide whether this man is to go to the senate or to return to the harmlessness of private life; whether the reputation of the state made glorious by a long line of distinguished public servants is to be further disgraced before civilization by this madman.

The Columbia affair should be the last straw with every law-abiding South Carolinian. That fine old state should send to the country the message that it refuses to be placed outside the pale of civilization by indorsing this man or his methods.

South Carolina is on trial before civilization.

A WOMAN'S WONDERFUL WORK.

Under the supervision of Miss Jessica P. McCall, a woman of marked administrative capacity, the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company and the Brooklyn Board of Education have inaugurated a novel and effective crusade for safety, aimed at street traffic and safety in the home and public places against fire and other dangers.

The outline and details of this crusade are of so comprehensive and sound a nature that they might well be adopted in Atlanta as well as in other cities. The cry throughout the country now is for "Safety First!" and Miss McCall seems to have found an effective way to secure results.

She does not confine her efforts to idle preachments to adults, or tiresome newspaper cards. She goes direct to the source of all fundamental reforms—the children. Her staff organizes in the different schools what are known as "Safety Patrols." These are composed of boys who are named on the patrols for prowess in scholarship or in recognition for some other qualification. These patrols are supposed to reach dangerous street crossings near the schools a few minutes before the hour of assembling, and warn and guide children in the lanes of safety. The process is repeated with the dismissal of school.

Other methods are used. Experts visit the schools with small models of trolleys, showing the children how to embark and alight, and the dangers of violating fundamental rules. There are constant exhibitions of the perils of traffic-crossings, with photo-pictures on the enforcement of laws of the road and the penalties for violation. Everything is sought to be done by object-lesson and demonstration.

Under the continuous hammering of this system, officials trace a decided diminution of accidents. They expect this decrease to gain geometrical ratio, as the effect of instruction advances, and as the present younger generation grows into maturity.

The Brooklyn method will be imitated elsewhere. Miss McCall's work is no longer experimental. She has shown what can be done in conserving human life—and the field is as wide as the world itself.

And it all shows what wonderful results can be accomplished by a woman who has a mission and who knows how to do it.

DEMOCRATIC DESERTERS.

The exuberance with which the republicans are looking forward next fall to capturing the house of representatives from the democrats is reflected in a Washington letter to The Brooklyn Eagle, reproduced by The Constitution for the information of Georgia democrats. The significance for Georgians is that—

One of the strongest weapons upon which the republicans base their hopes is the chronic absenteeism of democrats, which has embarrassed and impeded the work of both house and senate.

These democrats—and we have a conspicuous example here in Georgia—are playing into the hands of the republicans. They know, every man of them, that the approaching fall elections are critical for the democratic party. They know that if the republicans capture the house the work of the party is done for this administration. They know that the first genuine democratic opportunity in twenty years is today in jeopardy.

What are Georgians going to say to the democratic congressmen who desert their party in the hour of its greatest need? Thank heaven, there is only one with that black mark against him to date.

Repudiation is the one punishment.

If, being in a minor position, they betray and forsake the party to which they owe elevation and allegiance, it is arrogant assumacy to ask for promotion.

A FIGHTING WOMAN.

Not soon, but in the inexorable progress of evolution and time, women will vote in Georgia, as they will in every American state. That is written in the political firmament for any man with the eyes to read and the courage to confess. When the day comes, one woman in Georgia will deserve a large part of the credit. She is not famous nor spectacularly notable as a personality. She is just a fighter. Her name is Mary L. McLendon, and she comes of warrior stock, since her sister is Mrs. W. H. Felton.

Credit to whom credit is due, and credit must be given Mrs. McLendon for being among the first in the field for woman suffrage in Georgia and the south. Probably others were the technical pioneers. But measured by persistence, by refusal to be discouraged and by battering against prejudice and adverse sentiment, Mrs. McLendon stands out as notable. When she espoused suffragism it was a by-word. Folk called its advocates cranks. Ridicule did not deter her. Skepticism did not halt her. She surmounted the one, and set about patiently to combat the other.

Now woman suffrage has come into its own, at least in the matter of respectability. It has many able, influential and eloquent advocates. It gets a hearing without any trouble, even though the verdict be adverse.

Mrs. McLendon fought and endured before the arrival of these easier times, almost by herself in the wilderness. She is due the credit for the courage and foresight of the crusader and pioneer, whose visions, once scoffed at, are now given at least respectful attention.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE.

A thoroughly merited tribute to Congressman W. C. Adamson, representative from the Fourth Georgia district, is that paid him recently in The Carroll County Times by the Hon. John T. Hearn, of Victory, Ga. Mr. Hearn makes a point worth noting, when he says that but few constituents of the congressman really understand how large he looms in the eye of the nation.

He relates how Judge Adamson, as chairman of the interstate commerce committee, has had most of the burden of drafting legislation dealing with Panama canal tolls and administration as well as domestic problems in interstate commerce, particularly the preparation of the trade commission bill. Upon each of these subjects Judge Adamson made himself a profound authority. Upon many occasions during the debate upon Panama canal tolls leaders of the opposition, both on the republican and democratic sides, deferred to Judge Adamson because of his special knowledge and admitted integrity.

It was in connection with the debate that preceded the repeal of the tolls exemption, as Mr. Hearn shows, that Judge Adamson figured with such conspicuous courage and ability.

In the routine duties attendant upon representing his constituency, Judge Adamson has unwaveringly displayed loyalty and diligence. In the broader realm of national service his name is linked indissolubly with the achievements of the democratic administration.

Far from a world of wonder,—
The lowground folks have the peaceful dreams
While the hilltops shake with thunder.

"Atlanta's Great Philanthropist."

(From The Houston (Texas) Post.)

Atlanta has secured the Methodist university of the southeast through the splendid philanthropy of one man—Asa G. Candler—who gave to the fund the munificent sum of $1,000,000, claimed by Atlanta to be the largest donation ever made to the cause of education in the south. Of course, Mr. Candler's gift is not large compared with the Rice foundation of Houston, conservatively estimated to be worth $10,000,000, with the certainty that half a century hence it will be worth several times that much. It must be remembered, however, that people residing in the southeastern states do not regard Texas as a southern state, but a southwestern state.

In that view, Mr. Candler's gift stands in a class by itself among southern benefactions unless the gifts of the Duke family to Trinity college, another Methodist institution, be excepted. The Duke family has given more than a million to Trinity, but there are several rich Dukes and only one Asa Candler.

The important consideration is, however, that the list of southern philanthropists is growing and, with the steadily increasing number of southern millionaires with the corresponding increase of their wealth individually, we may expect within another generation to witness a gratifying development of our educational institutions.

Giving to the public is a noble virtue that glows and expands when cultivated. It betokens an awakening among those favored by fortune to a sense of their obligations to their fellowmen. No large fortune such as Mr. Candler's is possible without the aid of many people, and the thought must eventually come to the wealthy as it came to Mr. Candler that they are but trustees in the broad sense and that at the final judgment they must answer for their stewardship of the vast material blessings which have been bestowed upon them.

Such men as William Marsh Rice, Henry Rosenberg, George Ball, George H. Hermann, Asa G. Candler, Washington Duke and his sons, George W. Brackenridge and many others of lesser wealth have not only done well by their people, but they have set an example that must surely bring a harvest of good in the days to come, when other men who have won vast fortune come to consider in the calm of life's evening what their obligation to humanity is.

It is a worthy ambition for any man to desire to erect a monument to commemorate his virtues, and it is a hopeful sign that men are coming to know that monuments of marble or brass are perishable and soon crumble or corrode. The monument that outlives all is some splendid deed of unselfish philanthropy that defies all time. The men whom we have mentioned have erected such monuments and others will do so in the years to come. In this way we are making a history that other generations will cherish so long as time may endure.

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

"LITTLE JOE" SHOWS THAT HE OPPOSES ONLY LAWLESS ORGANIZED LABOR

Joseph M. Brown makes it clear that he is not opposed to "organized labor."

Yesterday morning The Constitution, in presenting a liberal review of his last lenghty communication, introduced the article with the statement—"Little Joe does not mince matters in the race or hesitate to say what he has in mind. He has no use for organized labor."

Mr. Brown promptly explains that this construction of his position is erroneous, and referring to this inadvertent misstatement of his position made in the condensation of his letter, he says:

> Permit me to state that in not one single public or private utterance I have ever made, have I indicated any opposition to organized labor.
> On the contrary, not only a clear inference but some of my statements have been to the positive effect that labor has as much right to organize as has any other portion of our citizens. Laboring men have as much right to organize labor unions as any men have to organize a Baptist, Methodist, Presbyterian or other church, or a Masonic lodge, or farmers' union, or any other society or brotherhood.
> But the point that I have persistently made is that members of no organization have the right to use that organization as a cover for lawlessness. If I have stressed any point, that has been above all others. Permit me to use one illustration: Suppose there were a Baptist church and a Methodist church seven miles from Atlanta, the members of each were engaged in raising vegetables, poultry and other produce to sell in Atlanta. Then, suppose that the members of the Baptist church were to say: "We do not want these Methodists to divide this trade with us; we will destroy their gardens and if that does not accomplish our purpose we will dynamite their houses and even kill some of the people."
> Would not the courts take charge of my Baptist brethren in a hurry and probably land a number of them in the penitentiary?
> Now, if I severely criticised my brethren for the acts of lawlessness they had committed, would you hold that I criticised the entire Baptist denomination in Georgia, throughout the south, throughout America and the world?
> Let me therefore straighten your mind on the point in question, and repeat that while there are scores of good and praiseworthy purposes which can be accomplished by members of labor unions, they, like the members in other organizations, are to be condemned by all law-observing people if they resort to the process of anarchy, if they continue to issue orders to their members under cover of their union label that said members disobey mandates which the state gives and upon which she placed her great seal.
> JOSEPH M. BROWN.

BROWN FORCES ARE CONFIDENT; SO ARE HOKE SMITH FOLLOWERS

Interest in the Hoke Smith-Joe Brown race, which seemed to be lacking last week, has picked up immeasurably, and from this time forward this contest will occupy the center of the political stage.

In the lobby of the Kimball House the names of "Little Joe" and Hoke can be oftener heard than any others. As the afternoons wane discussions grow warmer until by night one can hear all sorts of oratory.

Confidence seems to be the keynote of both factions.

Stroll into the Smith room and you will be told that the senator's victory is going to be a regular landslide. Pass along to "Little Joe's" headquarters and you will be informed that ALL the country counties are in line for Brown and that it is all over but the shouting.

Both headquarters are the scenes of the greatest activity.

"Little Joe" spends a part of each day at the Kimball House going over the situation with his lieutenants, while H. Y. McCord, a staunch supporter of Hoke Smith, looks after the many visitors who call daily to bring 'news regarding the senator's chances. The daily mail at both headquarters is increasing.

Mr. McCord gave out the following statement Thursday:

"We have yet to find any very serious opposition to Senator Smith's re-election to the United States senate except from a few parties who desire to keep alive the political factions in Gorgia to further their own political interests, and from certain sources that have sought to destroy the democratic party since 1896.

"Our compaign is moving smoothly, and from the number of letters received from throughout the state today we are encouraged to believe that it is a landslide in favor of Senator Smith's re-election."

Render Terrell, campaign manager for Brown, was equally optimistic. He said:

"The number of encouraging letters is daily increasing and we have every reason to expect a splendid victory."

So there you are. If Hoke Smith carries all the counties he expects and Little Joe gets all that his friends are claiming for him, the legislature will have to create a big batch of new counties, and that very quickly!

GOVERNOR SLATON'S MAIL IS MIGHTY ENCOURAGING

Letters received at Governor Slaton's headquarters Thursday would indicate that he is growing in strength as the date of the primary approaches, particularly in south Georgia.

E. L. Campbell writes from Plains: "I have visited Irwin, Tift, Worth, Thomas, Dougherty and am now in Sumter county. A conservative estimate from what I can gather is that you will receive a handsome majority in each of these counties. My home county, Coffee, will give you about two and a half to one against all comers. Felder is your strongest opponent in south Georgia."

H. B. Folsom, editor of The Montgomery Monitor, declares in a letter received yesterday that "Governor Jack" will carry Montgomery.

A prominent Albany merchant writes: "I can assure you that you will have no trouble in carrying Dougherty county."

The tax law seems to be proving a boomerang to those who undertook to make an issue of it against Governor Slaton. John A. Ward, of Villanova, writes: "I think the tax law is one of the best laws ever enacted. Every genuine and constructive citizen approves the law. Of course, it does not meet the approval of the tax dodger."

Booth Bros., two prominent Elbert county merchants, say: "The tax law is right and just and, in its final effect, will make for great good to our state and her people. We hope to see Elbert county round up in the Slaton column. We are sure that you are gaining in this section of the state daily."

FRIENDS OF RANDOLPH ANDERSON EXPRESS GREAT CONFIDENCE

W. Walter Mangum, campaign manager for J. Randolph Anderson, gave out the following interview Thursday relative to Mr. Anderson's prospects:

"Friends of Hon. J. Randolph Anderson are now contending that he will get more votes in Fulton county than both Dr. Hardman and Judge Nat Harris. They say there is no doubt about Mr. Anderson carrying the county, it being a question of majority.

"The formation of the strong club has done much to stir his friends on to greater efforts and signed club cards are coming into headquarters in a steady stream, and from all indications at least 8,000 cards will be signed before the date of the primary. Eight thousand is the number fixed by the committee, and they will be secured without much effort.

"Whether or not local rallies will be held is a question to be decided. Mr. Anderson's speaking time is so limited that it is hardly probable that he will waste time in territory which is sure to go for him, but will make his efforts in other counties.

"His friends in Fulton are fully capable of looking after the situation. The number of prominent men who are supporting Mr. Anderson is surprising, and those who saw the list of men who have declared themselves for him realized that he was being supported by all factions and classes. It is the fight for a man who has proved himself eminently worthy of the honor he is seeking, and old-time foes are united in assisting him in his fight."

"HARDWICK 'DROPPED HIS CANDY;' LOSES OUT IN PIERCE COUNTY."

Under the above heading The Waycross Journal carries a story on its front page concerning Congressman Hardwick's visit to Blackshear:

"If the reports that come from Pierce county count for anything at all, Congressman Hardwick has 'dropped his candy' in that county.

"Pierce county, up until Saturday, was considered the strongest Hardwick county in south Georgia. While the friends of Governor Slaton and Mr. Felder claim that Hardwick counties in south Georgia are about as scarce as hen teeth, yet they did admit that Hardwick at one time had a good strong following in Pierce county.

"'Hardwick LOST 200 votes by his speech at Blackshear last Saturday,' stated a prominent gentleman from Blackshear who was in Waycross Tuesday evening. This gentleman is Mr. Harry Johnson, who lived in Waycross for a great many years.

"According to the statement of Mr. Johnson and several other prominent Pierce county men, Congressman Hardwick, while making his speech at Blackshear, was asked if he favored the parcel post bill when it was being passed by congress and answered that HE DID NOT FAVOR the PARCEL POST BILL.

"During his speech Mr. Harrell, a prominent citizen of Pierce county, asked Mr. Hardwick for permission to ask him a question and Mr. Hardwick consented. Mr. Harrell then asked him, 'WHY IS IT, MR. HARDWICK, THAT YOU DID NOT ANSWER THE LETTERS I WROTE YOU ASKING FOR YOUR POSITION ON THE PARCEL POST LAW?'

"Mr. Hardwick answered, saying, 'I DID NOT ANSWER YOUR LETTER AS EVERYBODY KNEW HOW I STOOD ON THE PARCEL POST LAW.'

"'HOW DID YOU STAND, MR. HARDWICK?' asked Mr. Harrell.

"'I WAS AGAINST THE PARCEL POST BILL,' answered Mr. Hardwick.

"Pierce county is a farming county, and every farmer favors the parcel post law, said Mr. Johnson, so, by Mr. Hardwick telling the farmer how he stood on this question lost him at least 200 votes, and means that Governor Slaton will carry the county by a large majority."

HARDMAN CLUB IS FORMED AT HOMER, BANKS COUNTY

A Banks County Hardman club of 142 members has been organized at Homer, Ga., to prosecute the campaign of Dr. L. G. Hardman, candidate for governor, according to a letter received at the Hardman headquarters, Kimball House, from S. R. Jolly, of Homer. Mr. Jolly stated that a strong county organization is being built up, and that he is confident Dr. Hardman will carry Banks county. He says that Dr. Hardman is daily gaining in strength in that section of the state.

W. R. FRIER, OF COFFEE, NOW OPPOSES HON. PAUL TRAMMEL

Persistent rumor has it that W. R. Frier, editor of The Coffee County Progress, will oppose Hon. Paul Trammel for railroad commissioner. Mr. Frier has been urged to make the race and is known to have the matter under consideration. He recently passed through the city en route home from Denver, where he attended the Elks' convention.

HON. GROVER EDMONSON WILL SPEAK AT MOULTRIE TOMORROW

Hon. Grover Edmonson, representative from Brooks county, will speak at Moultrie tomorrow in the interests of Hon. Joseph M. Brown. It will be the first speech of the campaign and a large crowd is expected to be present.

Absentee Democrats Give Republicans Hope Of Capturing House

(From Washington Letter to Brooklyn Eagle.)

The national republican congressional committee, which has been at work in a preliminary way for several months, looks upon the political outlook through rose-colored glasses. It will require the winning of 74 seats now held by democrats to wrest control from them, but the republican managers are producing figures to show that it is by no means a wild dream to expect such a change, and they are actually figuring that they will do it.

The investigating business was worked to the fullest limit by the democrats when they gained control of the house in the sixty-second congress, during the last two years of President Taft. Every one of the standing committees on expenditures in the various government departments was galvanized into life, after years of somnolence.

Each committee went to work on its particular department, investigating anything and everything that promised campaign material. In addition, there were two or three special committees at work, making things uncomfortable for the republican heads of departments.

So far as actual scandals went, the results of the democratic investigations were meager. But they relied upon the cumulative effects upon the public mind of the wholesome inquiry, the very idea of an investigation being calculated to inspire the suspicion that there was something wrong somewhere.

This is exactly what the republicans propose to do, if they can secure control of the committees by winning the house.

They will put every executive, from the state department to the labor department, on the grill, and will take particular care that the results shall be published broadcast. They will delve into democratic appointments and democratic patronage, as well as policies, and will make a great noise over democratic extravagance all along the line. The latter will be one of their chief features, and the easiest, because government appropriations have increased by leaps every year.

The republican congressional managers, while not in possession of plethoric funds, claim they have enough to cover the country this fall in an effective manner, and they predict that the job of winning the house will be carried through to success, despite the apparently Herculean nature of the task.

Corking Features That Constitution Brings You Sunday

The South's Standard Newspaper and Best Advertising Medium.

THE Sunday Constitution is positively the one and only paper in Atlanta that carries Theodore Roosevelt's own story, illustrated by Kermit Roosevelt, of his trip THROUGH THE BRAZILIAN JUNGLE. The installments already published grip the interest, flashing the personality of the most remarkable man of the twentieth century. THE CONSTITUTION IS THE ONE ATLANTA NEWSPAPER IN WHICH YOU CAN GET THIS STORY.

* * * * *

THE startling and intimate NAPOLEON series, which has been running only for a few weeks, has attracted more comment, caused more letters to be written to The Constitution, than any feature ever published in a Sunday newspaper in Atlanta. Every installment is a complete story. James Morgan is following the path of Napoleon, every step, from the cradle to the grave. The only paper in Atlanta that publishes this series is—THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION.

* * * * *

THESE two features are typical of THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION. They are INSTRUCTIVE while being INTERESTING. The whole paper is built to that plan. It appeals to the desire for entertainment and instruction. It does not appeal to morbid or prurient instincts, nor to the appetite for mere piffle. Its bill of fare is HEALTHY, ATTRACTIVE, PIQUANT.

* * * * *

IN addition to these features The Constitution carries next Sunday the sermon just delivered at the International Peace Conference at Metropolitan Tabernacle, London, by Rev. Len G. Broughton, formerly of Atlanta, who may return to this city. Before the celebrities of Great Britain this Atlanta favorite speaks of the hundred years of peace between our country and England. The Constitution is the one newspaper to carry this remarkable address—especially reported for The Constitution.

A Word to Advertisers:

THESE sound, compelling Sunday features and The Constitution's matchless Associated Press and special news service mean something to YOU. They mean an AUDIENCE, that you reach with no other Atlanta Sunday newspaper, an audience of buyers, of spenders, an audience unique in the south.

The Constitution is the South's STANDARD NEWSPAPER. The pulling power of the Sunday Constitution is no experiment, no mere promise. The people who subscribe to it are not FLOATERS. They are steady population, STEADY PATRONS OF ADVERTISERS.

To neglect the Sunday Constitution as an advertising medium is to ENTER THE WEEK HANDICAPPED IN BUSINESS, AT A DISADVANTAGE WITH COMPETITORS, OVERLOOKING THE CREAM OF THE FIELD.

That is why the Sunday Constitution leads all other Atlanta newspapers in advertising.

The Sunday Constitution is one bet the Sunday reader cannot overlook.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION INDORSED BY TEACHERS

County School Heads Pass Strong Resolution — Commissioner Claxton Speaks.

Athens, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Seven hundred county superintendents, school officials and teachers from every section of the state unanimously endorsed a compulsory school attendance measure in passing the following resolution offered to the rural conference tonight by President Pound of the State Normal school and second by Professor Ashmore, of Savannah, after a strong address on the subject this evening by United States commissioner of education, P. P. Claxton.

"Resolved, That the officers, teachers and students of the university summer school, numbering 690, together with a large contingent of county schools superintendents and other school officials in conference in Athens from all sections of the state indorse with absolute unanimity and request the passage of the Sweat bill or some other bill embodying its main features of compulsory school attendance and providing for a reasonable and practicable plan for its enforcement.

"And resolved, second, That we believe it high time for the state of Georgia to cease trifling with the rights of the neglected, unfortunate and unprotected children to a school training and to wipe out the stinging reproach that Georgia is now one of the very few states in all Christiandom without compulsory school attendance laws, and as a partial result of this lack is one of the most illiterate states in the union."

Commissioner Claxton Speaks.

"There is going to be no general 'back to the country movement,'" declared United States commissioner of education, P. P. Claxton today, here, to address the rural life conferences.

"Not till the improved machinery on the farm has been discarded, machinery doing the work of three to ten men, and the old hand work entirely resumed, forcing the population back to make actual bread will the city go back to the soil," he explained. Then he spoke of co-operative effort to make the city better and the country more desirable.

"In one western state," he declared, "the rural gathering selected a committee to investigate the bad conditions of the cities in that section. In many of the cities there are conventions to study needs and betterment in the rural region. In old times men worked in the fields and came to the cities at night for rest and safety; now the work is done by many in the cities who go back into the rural home at night to rest in safety and comfort."

Thus the line between city and country, the prejudice between citizens of rural and urban settlements is disappearing and the era of co-operation, the speaker insisted, is upon the land.

He urged hearty co-operation of town and country interests emphasizing the fact that if there is a spot unproductive in the country the city suffers, if there is a slum in the city the country also suffers.

Commissioner Claxton spoke at a luncheon at the Georgian hotel, presided over by the chancellor of the university and on the program of which State Superintendent Brittain and others spoke.

EASTMAN IS HOST TO LOG ROLLERS OF SOUTH GEORGIA

Eastman, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—The South Georgia Log Rollers' association met in Eastman today for their second annual convention.

Special trains were run here from Vidalia, Dublin, Tennille, Wrightsville, Hawkinsville, Macon, Jesup, Hazlehurst and other points in south Georgia, bringing over 8,000 people.

The officers of the Eastman camp of W. O. W., host to the convention, are as follows: H. E. Nicholson, council commander; Roy Pennington, advisory lieutenant; Hutson Goolsby, banker; J. T. Johnson, clerk. The program for the meet was arranged by Newton Phillips.

At 10:30 a. m. the grand street parade, consisting of emblematic floats, decorated automobiles, W. O. W. Rooters' club on foot, camp delegations and Eastman citizens started from the lower end of College street. The parade was over a mile long.

At 11:30 a. m. the paraders dispersed at the city park and the address of welcome on behalf of the city of Eastman was delivered by J. C. Rawlins, mayor of Eastman.

This address was responded to by Dr. F. L. Rosenthal, of Columbus, Ga., first vice president, W. O. W., and head council for Georgia.

Dr. Rosenthal was fallowed by Sovereign C. W. Atwill, who extended welcome to visiting Woodmen on behalf of the Eastman camp, Lumberman Camp No. 182.

Colonel J. W. Simmons, of Atlanta, responded in behalf of the order.

Next, Roscoe Luke, member of Thomasville camp of W. O. W., spoke on woodcraft and its benefit to the masses.

Newton Phillips next read the president's report. W. J. Domingos made the secretary-treasurer's report.

RECORD SPEED SHOWN BY BOY STENOGRAPHER

San Francisco, July 23.—In a speed trial held today before Judge Sturtevant, presiding over the superior court of San Francisco, Lasher B. Gallagher, 20, who has studied stenography only two years, wrote 248 words a minute, which was as fast as anybody in the room could read to him, but apparently not as fast as he could write. In the national shorthand speed contests 280 words a minute is the highest reading speed, and in the last contest the winner got 272 words correctly.

Young Gallgaher read his notes back correctly, and comparison with the original, which was a legal transcript, totally unfamiliar to him, showed that he had not made an error.

HE FACES A SUIT FOR LIBEL

FORMER PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

William J. Barnes, chairman of the New York republican committee, has ordered his lawyers to bring suit for libel against Colonel Roosevelt. The colonel has recently been making some ugly charges against Barnes, and the latter says Roosevelt must prove his accusations. This new picture of Colonel Roosevelt was taken at his first conference with progressive leaders at the national progressive headquarters in New York. That meeting marked his entrance into the political arena for the full campaign.

complaint was handed to him by James S. Ivins, of the law firm which is acting for Mr. Barnes. According to Mr. Ivins it rests with Colonel Roosevelt whether the suit shall be tried before election, or delayed, perhaps two years. Colonel Roosevelt had learned that the lawyer was on the way. Without awaiting Mr. Ivins' explanation of his visit, he held out his hand and greeted him cordially.

"I'm very sorry," Mr. Ivins began, "to disturb you in a matter of this kind," but Colonel Roosevelt would listen to no expression of regret.

"That's all right," he said. He invited Mr. Ivins into his library and gave him a seat. Mr. Ivins held out the papers he had brought with him. Colonel Roosevelt took them without a word.

Barnes' Name Not Mentioned.

The men talked for a few minutes. Mr. Barnes' name was not mentioned by either. Colonel Roosevelt showed his visitor to the door and shook hands with him again as he left.

Mr. Ivins said that Mr. Barnes, when looking over the paper in New York, remarked: "Mr. Roosevelt last year did the very unusual thing of suing for libel a Michigan editor who called him a drunkard. I am simply following the precedent he set."

Colonel Roosevelt declined to say what course he would pursue in the case, preserving silence until he had consulted his lawyers.

Earlier tonight he indicated that he was ready to meet the issue, and was confident of proving in court his statements concerning Mr. Barnes. When the proposed suit was mentioned at that time the colonel's face grew stern for an instant. Then he laughed.

"Let Mr. Barnes go on," he said slowly, choosing his words with care. "I have never said anything that I could not prove."

That was all he would say.

SENATORS ARE WORKING FOR ADJOURNMENT

Washington, July 23.—Determination to expedite trust legislation and bring congress to an adjournment as soon as possible was demonstrated today when the senate adopted the plan of the democratic caucus to hold daily sessions from 11 o'clock a. m. unil 6 p. m. with recesses from day to day in order to dispense with what is known as the "morning hours" for miscellaneous business.

Many republicans voted with the democrats and it was agreed that trust legislation should be pressed until disposed of. The interstate trade commission bill, already discussed at intervals for more than a week now will be pressed until a vote is reached. Then the Clayton bill to supplement the Sherman act will follow and last will come the railroad securities regulation bill which was reported today by Senator Newlands, chairman of the interstate commerce committee.

Aftermath of the democratic caucus, which relegated to fourth place on the legislative program the river and harbor appropriation bill, brought many indications of an earlier adjournment than recently had been hoped for. Many senators privately asserted they could see no chance for holding congress after the trust legislation is passed.

Although some attempts were made to cheer the champions of river and harbor legislation with the assurance that congress will wait long enough after trust legislation to pass their bills, there is such opposition to the measure that few members believe a quorum could be held to consider it.

Administration leaders have set their hopes for adjournment by September 15 with a possibility of concluding earlier.

Volcano Threatens Island.

Sydney, N. S. W., July 23.—The Island of Aoba in the New Hebrides group, is in immediate danger of collapsing from incessant earthquake shocks, according to late advices received here. Already there have been several fatalities, and if the steaming volcano on the island erupts the whole population, numbering 5,000, is doomed.

WILSON WITHDRAWS JONES' NOMINATION

however, there was a democratic love feast in the cloak room.

Senator Hitchcock, in speaking of the effect of the message, said:

"The message certainly lifted a load from a great many democrats. It was a great relief to some who already knew how they were going to vote and a great relief also to some who were still uncertain. I am sure it is a good thing for the democracy."

Senator Reed also expressed his delight over the outcome. The democrats who signed the minority report, Senators Pomerene, Hollis, Shafroth and Lee, said that their report spoke for them.

Senator Lewis, of Illinois, who championed the cause of Mr. Jones, declared that had the president kept his name before the senate Mr. Jones would have been confirmed.

President Wilson is said to have been determined to press Mr. Jones' nomination until today when he concluded that the anti-trust program might be endangered if the fight in the senate was continued.

Speculation over whom Mr. Wilson will choose as Mr. Jones' successor began immediately after the nomination was withdrawn. The names of Omer F. Hershey, of Baltimore, and I. M. Fenton, the choice of Senator Lewis, of Chicago, were understood to be under consideration. It was thought that Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Hamlin would now be made governor of the board.

The president has been assured that the nomination of Paul M. Warburg can be confirmed in the senate.

Jones to the President.

Correspondence between the president and Mr. Jones made public at the white house today follows in part:

"Chicago, July 20, 1914. My dear Mr. President: I have reached a definite conviction that it is my duty to ask you to withdraw my nomination as a member of the federal reserve board. You are aware that I was in no sense whatever an applicant for the office. It was with the gravest reluctance that I agreed to accept the honorable but heavy burdens of that office in case my nomination were sent to the senate and confirmed by it. I did not then anticipate a protracted and bitter contest. At the invitation of the committee on banking and currency, I willingly appeared before it and I endeavored to answer with entire frankness all the questions that were asked and my testimony was made public at my request.

Causing Injury to Party.

"It is not for me to surmise motives or to complain of results. That my nomination and the controversy that has arisen over it in the committee on banking and currency is seriously embarrassing your administration and is causing injury to the party of which you are the leader is too clear to admit of any doubt. And in view of the character of the report made by the majority of the committee on banking and currency, much of it based on distortion of facts and perversion of truth—I feel convinced even if the nomination were confirmed by the senate my usefulness as a member of the federal reserve board would be seriously impaired.

"I am not willing longer to remain the cause of embarrassment to you and to your administration, and in view of the considerations above stated, I now ask that you withdraw my name from consideration.

"Faithfully yours,

"THOMAS D. JONES."

Personal Word to President.

In a personal letter to president, accompanying the formal request, Mr. Jones said:

"I cannot let the matter go without a personal word, which I deemed inappropriate to be inserted in that letter. I confess that the opportunity to be associated with you, in the actual creative work of government, took strong hold upon my imagination. I doubt whether I could have stood the work long, but I was prepared to devote the last ounce of strength there was in me to the work which your proposal semed to bring to me.

"Now that the vision is passed, my preponderant feeling is that of profound relief. I had come to feel that I was in some way the occasion of getting you into inextricable difficulties. I am sure that my withdrawal is wise.

"I hardly dare trust myself to say how deeply I prize the confidence you have shown in me and your endeavors to carry the matter through. It will always be a matter of real and deep pride to me."

The President to Jones.

President Wilson's reply follows:

"My Dear Friend: Your letter of the twentieth of July brings to me, I think, more kinds of regret than any other letter I ever received. Regret, first of all, that the country should lose the invaluable services of such a man as I, and all fairminded men who know you at all, know you to be; I regret that I should have brought upon you so unpleasant an experience in which you were treated with gross and manifest injustice; regret that such circumstances should seem even for the moment to be associated with appointment to high office under the great government of the United States, representing a generous, fair and honorable people; regret that the organization of a great banking system should be so embarassed and obstructed.

"You need not think that anything in the present circumstances has embarrassed me in the least. It causes me not the slightest embarrassment. I have no moment of hesitation or flagging enthusiasm, in standing by men whom I honor and believe in. You may leave my feelings (my feelings for myself) out of the reckoning.

Senate Not to Be Blamed.

"The aspect of this matter which seems to me of gravest concern and consequence is that the choice of members of the federal reserve board of the new banking system should have been made an occasion of partisan alignment and action. The adverse report on your nomination to which you justly refer as unfair and untrue is, of course, not to be charged to the feeling or action of the senate of the United States or to anything for which that great body as a whole can be held responsible.

The report is signed only by the minority members of the committee and by two members of the majority who have usually acted with them. There is no reason to believe that either in its temper or in its conclusions, that report represents the attitude of the senate itself. I wish most heartily that the inauguration of the new national banking system, a system conceived and enacted with no element of partisanship in its objects or provisions, might have been free from this unfortunate and ominous incident.

"I believe that the judgment and desire of the whole country cry out for a new temper in affairs. The time has come when discriminations against particular classes of men should be absolutely laid aside and discarded as unworthy of the counsels of a great people. The effort for genuine social justice, for peace—the peace which is founded on common understandings—and for prosperity, the prosperity of co-operation and mutual trust and confidence, should be a united effort without partisan prejudice or class antagonism. It is only of such just and noble elements that the welfare of a great country can be compounded. We have breathed already too long the air of suspicion and distrust. The progress of reform is not retarded by generosity and fairness.

Honors Jones for Action.

"Your action in requesting that your name be withdrawn displays your usual sensitive regard for considerations other than your own personal interest and sincerely as I regret it I cannot but honor you for the action you have taken. I have no right to ask much less to urge, that you continue to allow yourself to be made the football of the sort of contest which has sprung up over this nomination. It is a matter of genuine sorrow to me that a man like you should be excluded from theh public service upon a great occasion. But neither of us is responsible for these extraordinary circumstances. We must both accept them. I can only hope that better, cooler, wiser counsels may presently prevail.

"Moreover, a great program of corrective and constructive legislation is upon the eve of completion, and, I am sure that you would not wish, as I do not wish, anything of a personal character to stand, even temporarily, in its way to delay or in any respect divert it. It is already clear that the country comprehends and will itself redress the injustice which has been done you.

"With warmest regard, cordially and faithfully yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

To Bar All Trust Officers.

Washington, July 23.—Legislation aimed directly at President Wilson's nomination of Thomas D. Jones, of Chicago, for the federal reserve board was introduced today by Senator Hitchcock as an amendment to the trade commission bill. Mr. Hitchcock is one of the leaders of the opposition to Mr. Jones because of his connection as a director of the International Harvester company.

Senator Hitchcock's amendment would make ineligible to membership of the federal reserve board or the federal trade commission "or for any other position of honor subject to appointment by the president, any person who is a director, manager or trustee or other officer of a corporation operating in violation of the anti-trust laws of the United States or of any state or resisting in court the enforcement of the same."

AGREEMENT IS REACHED ABOUT COTTON FUTURES

Measure, as Accepted by Conferees, Will Stop Gambling on New York Exchange.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, July 23.—(Special.)—At a meeting held tonight at the house of Senator Hoke Smith, the conferees representing the senate and house on the cotton futures bill reached an agreement which will be reported to the house tomorrow by Representative Asbury F. Lever, chairman of the house committee on agriculture.

The bill finally agreed to by the conferees which will undoubtedly be approved by both houses is a tax measure. It provides for a very nominal tax upon cotton futures contracts which comply with the regulations and are based on government standard grades. Other kinds of futures contracts are taxed $1,000 for each 100 bales. It was agreed that such a tax would be absolutely prohibitive. Severe penalties are also provided for violations of the law.

Meeting with the conferees tonight were A. J. Carr, chief of the market division; Nathan A. Cobb, cotton expert of the department of agriculture, and Francis G. Caffee, counsellor of the department.

"We have perfected a very satisfactory bill," said Senator Smith, chairman of the conference. "It utilizes the taxing power of the government to destroy the evils of exchange gambling which have been so costly to the cotton farmers of the south. I believe the bill will add not less than $5 a bale to the value of next season's cotton crop. It means the adoption of a legitimate contract, since any other kind is taxed $10 a bale, and it means that only nine commercial grades of cotton can be tendered in settlement of a contract on the exchange."

Representative Gordon Lee, of Georgia, another member of the conference committee, expressed himself as entirely pleased with the bill agreed upon. He stressed the fact that it would be impossible to unload upon the farmer the excessive penalty provided, a tax of 50 cents or $1 a bale would have been passed along to the farmer, he said, and the exchanges would have continued to use the old unfair contract.

MISSING PARSON FOUND SELLING NEWSPAPERS

St. Louis, July 23.—Rev. Dr. Phillip Carlin, a well-known evangelist in the Southern Illinois Methodist conference, who disappeared from Lebanon, Ill., two years ago, has been located in St. Louis. A few days ago a man who has been selling newspapers on a corner in the West End admitted to Rev. Mr. Birkhead, pastor of a local Methodist church, that he was the missing revival leader.

After a conference with Mr. Birkhead and others he signed a withdrawal from the ministry.

ANOTHER BILL FILED AGAINST EMPIRE LIFE

Management of Company Has Been Reckless and Extravagant, Says New Petition.

New complications were added to the litigations of the Empire Life Insurance company on yesterday by a bill filed in Fulton superior court, in behalf of the policyholders of the company by Earl F. Chandler, asking that a receiver be appointed to wind up the affairs of the company, and that its business be re-insured.

The bill, which is quite lengthy, alleges that the petitioner was the holder of a policy of life insurance issued by the predecessor of the present Empire Life Insurance company, and that he was induced to consent to re-insurance on the representation that the Empire Life Insurance company was in a thoroughly sound and solvent condition, with a large surplus, and that the company was complying with the requirements of the laws of Georgia.

Among other allegations, it charges that the company has been paying large sums as annuities, and dividends, on board contracts in which the present company has no interest, and from which it derived no benefits, and that the liability for these payments is not carried on the books or statements of the company as a charge against its assets, and that the management of the company has been so reckless and extravagant that it has become insolvent and that unless a receiver is appointed and the business reinsured, the policyholders will lose the amounts paid by them as premiums.

Another section of the bill charges that the officers and managers of the Empire Life Insurance company themselves realized these conditions, and recently caused to be filed a collusive bill, asking the appointment of a receiver for the company, that its business be terminated and its insurance transferred to some other company, and that upon this bill the judge of Fulton county superior court has passed an order restraining the company from altering the status of its affairs.

The bill also charges dissension among the stockholders of the company, and alleges that one of the stockholders, Judge James R. Brown, has recently filed a bill attacking the company for misrepresentation, alleging insolvency and asking for the appointment of a receiver.

To the bill is attached a copy of such original petition referred to as having been filed at the instance of the Empire Life Insurance company, through a dummy plaintiff, asking the appointment of a receiver for the company.

The bill was filed by Hon. Madison Bell as attorney for the petitioning policyholder, asking at the same time relief for all other policyholders interested in the company.

IN RACE TO THE FINISH, DECLARES T. S. FELDER

Candidate for Senate Denies Conference With Hardwick Relative to Withdrawing.

Fayetteville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) As campaign fiction with no foundation whatever, Hon. T. S. Felder branded the statement that he is contemplating withdrawing from the senate race, in his address before a good-sized audience in the courthouse here today. He denied the published statement that he had recently been in conference with Congressman Hardwick relative to one or the other of the two retiring from the race.

"I have not been in conference with Mr. Hardwick, either directly or indirectly, about the senatorial race," said Mr. Felder. "I am running my own race and I expect to win. I have been satisfied with the situation every minute of the time. This is merely a campaign fabrication with no foundation whatever."

He dealt with the records of Hardwick and Slaton, and gave a history of his work in the general assembly. He said he did not have anything to do with the equalization tax law, and that it belonged to Slaton. He did not agree with Hardwick on his parcel post position.

From Fayetteville, Mr. Felder visited the towns of Woolsey, Inman, Brooks and Senoia, addressing a large open-air meeting at the last place.

Mr. Felder's speaking dates for the remainder of this week are as follows: Villa Rica, Friday, July 24, 9 a. m.; Temple, Friday, July 24, 11 a. m.; Carrollton, Friday, July 24, 3 p. m.; Bowdon, Saturday, July 25, 9 a. m.; Roopville, Saturday, July 25, 11:30 a. m.; Whitesburg, Saturday, July 25, 3 p. m.; Brennen, Saturday, July 25, 8 p. m.

Dispossessed, Girl Sues Fulton Mills For $5,000 Damages

Alleging that the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills illegally dispossessed her from a house of which she was not the renter for the purpose of intimidating her and coercing her to return to work when, on account of an existing strike, it was dangerous for her to do so, and used her case as a means of coercing former employees to return to work, Eva Stephens, 16 years old, by her father, C. C. Stephens, as next friend, has filed suit in Fulton superior court for damages in the sum of $5,000.

The suit was filed by Attorneys Gober & Jackson on Thursday, and the case was set for the September term.

It is claimed in the petition that her father rented from the mill company Nos. 16 and 18 Fulton terrace, adjoining houses, of which No. 18 was occupied by her father and family, while No. 16 was occupied by herself and brother. Eva Stephens alleges that when the strikers left the employ of the mill, she remained away because she thought it dangerous for a girl of her years to go to the factory during the disturbances engendered by the differences of the mill owners and the strikers. She gives as one reason for her fears that once in the mill she would not be able to get outside the walled and fenced enclosure except by permission of the mill owners in case of trouble.

She says that although the rent upon No. 16 Fulton terrace, where she lived, was paid, and the factory was holding back $18 of her pay, E. W. Hawkins, agent for the mill, on June 2, swore out a dispossessory warrant against her and that on June 8, the warrant was served by O. H. Puckett, acting as marshal from the municipal court, and her trunk, wearing apparel and household goods were cast into the street.

She Explains.

(From The Kansas City Journal.)

"You have your father's eyes," declared grandma, looking earnestly at the young girl.

"Yes'm."

"And you have your mother's hair."

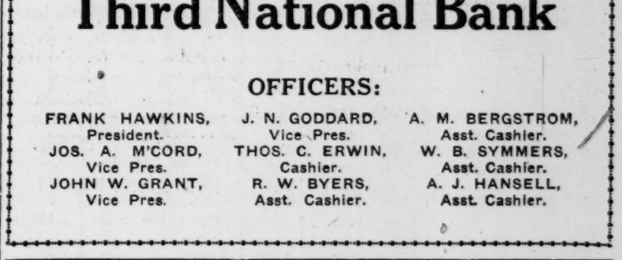

"No; this is sister's hair," faltered the girl. "And she said I could borrow it."

CHICAGO CUBS TAKE BARONS' SLUGGER

Exercise Blanket Option on Barons by Selecting the League's Leading Hitter.

Birmingham, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—It was announced today that the Chicago Nationals had exercised a blanket option on the Birmingham club by selecting Pete Knisely, the heavy hitting right fielder.

When Stewart was sent to the Barons, the Cubs exacted an option on the Barons, gaining the right to select the best player for $2,500. Knisely is hitting over .350 and is ranking high in base-stealing and slugging.

The St. Louis Americans are certain to recall First Baseman Covington on a $300 option, while it is believed that Catcher Walter Tragessor will return to the Boston Nationals on a $600 option.

AUSTRALASIANS GET ONE-SIDED VICTORY OVER CANADIANS

Chicago, July 23.—Australasia today scored a one-sided victory over Canada in the first of the Davis cup elimination matches at the Onwentsia club, Lake Forest. In straight sets, Anthony F. Wilding defeated R. F. Powell, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2, and in the same manner Norman Brookes won from B. P. Schwengers, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. The Canadians made a game fight for every point, but were outclassed.

The result gives the Australasians a big advantage, since, to win the series, the Canadians now must take the doubles tomorrow and both the singles matches on Saturday. The first match, that of Brookes and Schwengers, was hardly completed before a terrific storm began. The showers threatened to cause a postponement of the second match, but canvas covers kept the courts nearly dry and Wilding refused to consent to having the match set back.

Wilding played a wonderful game. His passing was marvelous, alley shots dropping just inside the side lines and just short of the base lines, leaving Powell helpless at times. His drives just topped the nets and his lobbying kept the Canadian playing far back of the base line.

Powell occasionally also showed great skill in placing, but his service was not to be compared with his opponent's and evidently had no terrors for the latter. Lack of confidence probably hastened Schwengers' defeat at the hands of Brookes. The latter, though seemingly not the brilliant master of the game that Wilding is, easily had the better of Schwengers.

In the doubles tomorrow, Powell and Schwengers meet Brookes and Wilding. Cooler weather is predicted.

GULLS WILL NOT TAKE KIRBY CASE TO COURTS

Mobile, Ala., July 23.—(Special.)—Manager Briscoe Lord, of the Mobile club, announced tonight that the Mobile Baseball association would make no fight in the federal courts to stop Larue Kirby playing with the St. Louis Federals, as has been the case with other clubs who have lost players through contract jumping. "I am satisfied to let Kirby go, and when Miller gets back in the game, I believe his services will be forgotten. St. Louis and Mordecai Brown are welcome to him," said Lord.

QUERIES ANSWERED

(Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer all questions pertaining to all branches of sports.)

With runner on third and man at bat, pitcher winds up to deliver ball. Man on third starts home. Catcher runs in front of plate, catches ball before man at bat has a chance to strike at it and tags runner. Is the runner out or safe?

G. R. M.

The runner is safe and the batsman is given first base because of the catcher's interference.

With a runner on third base and two out, the batter hits the ball for what should have been a two-base hit, but he failed to touch first. In the meantime the runner on third scored. Then the ball was played to first and the player who got the hit was declared out. Does the run count?

F. P. S.

The run does not count. Legally the batter failed to reach first base when he failed to touch it, and as this was the third out, the run did not count.

Crackers and Billies Will Play at Poncey Saturday

The game between the Crackers and the Billies, scheduled for Montgomery on Saturday afternoon, has been transferred to Atlanta, President Kavanaugh wiring the local club last night that every team in the league had given its consent.

It is possible that two games may be played, the thirteen-inning tie game of the Billies' last visit to this city being played off then. Definite announcement of one or two games will be made today.

Final Round Reached In Atlanta Tourney; Hunt Plays Stewart

J. D. Hunt and R. R. Stewart will be the opposing players in the final round for the championship of the first amateur tennis tourney ever held in Atlanta.

This event will probably be played Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the first court at Piedmont, and as the two players are of the first-class variety, there is sure to be some good tennis uncorked when they meet.

The semi-final was played off Thursday afternoon, Hunt eliminating Richardson and Stewart defeating F. Peeples.

The semi-final match between Hall and Collins and Stewart and Boykin will probably be postponed a few days, probably being played on Monday.

The winners of this match will then meet Rhett and Hunt for the championship in doubles. Hunt and Rhett have won their way easily to the finals round, have lost only three games in the three matches that they have played so far.

The cups that will be given the victorious players are on exhibit at 119 Peachtree.

New York, July 23.—With the filing of its civil suit to dissolve the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad system here today the department of justice cleared the way to press its request for indictments of New Haven officials and directors for alleged criminal violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. Mr. Gregory, who filed the brief in the civil suit in the United States district court, conferred, after filing the bill, with United States District Attorney Marshall about the criminal phase of the case.

SOME TANGOING DONE BY KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Uniform Rank Gives Grand Ball—Old Dances Apparently More Popular.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 23.—For the first time in the history of the organization the tango and other new dances were given a place at the uniform rank Knights of Pythias military ball tonight. The dancing was continuous with two bands playing and the old-fashioned dances apparently were more popular.

Reserved seats were provided for the 3,000 invited guests. Several thousand more packed the sidewalks back of the partition and lined tops of buildings and windows which commanded a view of the brilliantly-lighted section of Ohio street, where the dancing took place. During the day prize drills continued with the appearance on the field of entries in class B.

General Stobbart has tendered his resignation to Thomas J. Carling, supreme chancellor, who will designate General William H. Loomis, of Michigan, as commander of the uniform rank. Prize drill for companies in class C will be given tomorrow. The awards will be announced Saturday when camp will be broken.

Prize fighters are not the only people who shake hands before they start in to hammer the stuffing out of each other.

GA. TROOPERS ENJOYING LIFE AT CAMP WHEELER

Major General Wood Arrives, But Holds No Formal Inspection.

By Ogle Grice.

Camp Wheeler, Augusta, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Actual camp became effective at 7 o'clock this morning and routine duties are now effective. First call is sounded at 5:45, breakfast call sounded at 6:15 and the troops begin their daily morning drill at 7:20. This continues for about three hours.

The Fifth regiment and the infantry regiments during the first period of the drill today, formed three war strength companies and engaged in squad drill in extended order. Particular attention was given to the non-commissioned officers. The men were drilled principally by signals.

The Cavalry squadron had a mounted drill in the morning. Officers and non-commissioned officers are given instructions at schools each day from one to two o'clock.

General Wood Arrives.

Major General Wood arrived at Augusta during the afternoon and visited Camp Wheeler. No formal review of the troops was held in his honor. It was stated that General Wood would leave Augusta tonight to visit other camps.

Two Augusta cavalry officers have sustained injuries. Practically no sickness has been reported. The hospital corps detachments have had practically nothing to do.

Lunch stands have done a phenomenal business. One stand sold sixty gallons of coffee within an hour. The sale of soft drinks and fruit has also been unusually heavy. Dozens of canteens and private stands surround the camp.

Large numbers of members of the Fifth regiment refreshed themselves in Lake Almond, which is located within the camp. Shower baths were installed the second day in camp.

A horse in troop A was so badly injured Wednesday night that it was shot. No other horses have been even slightly injured.

Provost Guards.

A heavy provost guard was on duty Wednesday night from the camp site to the city limits. Good order prevails, and no arrests have been made. But few drunks have been seen. Each regiment and independent command guards its own camp, so that each night many scores of men are on duty within the camp.

The cavalry squadron has the largest number of men on duty in its history, numbering nineteen officers and two hundred and twenty men. Practically every regiment is well within its army regulations as to strength.

A total of nearly 2,600 guardsmen are on duty, being the largest number of Georgia troops under arms at one time for more than a decade.

No complaint has been registered by troopers on account of the temperature. It has been pleasant, and the nights are very cool. The ground is rather sandy and the principal objection is that the dust is rather heavy at times.

The Y. M. C. A. has a branch on the field, and a few of the Augusta churches have representatives in camp. Moral conditions are good.

The railroads are just recovering from the heavy troop movement which required 120 cars and eleven special trains, the largest state movement on record.

The camp of the Second squadron of cavalry is said to be the most perfect ever made in Georgia. There is ample room, and the slope and arrangement is absolutely perfect and has been highly praised by army officers.

"FRAME-UP" CHARGED TO SOUTHERN RAILWAY

Dulaney Continues to Attack the System in Regard to Its Coal Rates.

Washington, July 23.—Charges that the Southern railway had entered into a "frame-up with trust coal operators" to keep the interstate commerce commission from granting to Virginia mines through and joint rates to tidewater by way of Knoxville, were made today by B. L. Dulaney, of Bristol, Tenn. He was testifying on cross-examination before the senate committee investigating allegations that the Southern and other lines at the behest of a "coal combine," divert to middle Atlantic points coal shipments that should go to Charleston and other southern ports.

Fraud Is Alleged.

Mr. Dulaney declared the "frame-up" occurred in the Andy's Ridge case. He testified that the Virginia coal operators agreed to make a joint fight to protect their rights, but that the "trust" operators after telephone conversations with Southern railway officials, changed their course and committed a fraud on the interstate commerce commission by not making certain arguments.

Attorney Thom, representing the Southern railway, produced a letter in which Dulaney's counsel first suggested the operators make a common fight. Mr. Dulaney said it was later that it was discovered the "trust" operators had changed their course at the instigation of the Southern.

"Do you mean to say that the commission did not give you a square deal?" asked Mr. Thom.

"I am making no charges against the commission."

Question of Through Rates.

"Didn't Commissioner Prouty write you that the question of through rates could not well come up in the case, but that he was willing to hear you?" asked the attorney.

"That is not the way I interpreted his letter."

"Now isn't it true that the rates now in existence allow you to get to market on the same terms as your competitors?" asked Mr. Thom.

"Yes, but the Southern, immediately after the Andy's Ridge case, began to give their patronage of fuel coal to the trust operators, and that enables them to run their mines continuously while we cannot do so."

"Does the Southern pay an exorbitant price for its coal?"

"I am not able to testify on that point."

"Were not operators in your district given an opportunity to bid on the Southern's field coal?"

"Not that I am aware of."

SHOWERS IN TEXAS WERE INSUFFICIENT

Cotton Market Opened at Decline, But Rallied and Closed at Advance—Spot Cotton Quiet.

New York, July 23.—There was a distinctly bullish atmosphere about the cotton market today and while it showed some irregularity at the start, with first prices 4 to 5 points lower because of showers in Texas and easier cables, subsequent weather developments were so unfavorable that the early loss was speedily regained and for the balance of the day the market exhibited pronounced signs of strength. The close was steady at 8 to 11 points net advance. The market at the top, which was reached in the last hour, showed ten to thirteen points net rise.

Bears were greatly disappointed at the volume and extent of the southwest rains. They were scattered about Texas, but in such small quantities as to scarcely lay the dust and instead of being followed by the hoped-for general rains, which are said to be very much needed in that section, the forecast was for fair conditions tonight and tomorrow except for showers on the Texas coast.

Supplementing this was a series of high temperatures in the southwest, Oklahoma reporting 100 degrees, and over, at practically all stations, also hot winds, while thirteen stations in Texas had a maximum temperature of 100 to 108 degrees. Even the eastern belt which has heretofore reported very favorable conditions, contributed bull arguments today as a number of pessimistic reports were received from both Georgia and Alabama, where rain is said to be needed at a number of points. Spot houses were credited with selling cotton early in the day against new crop purchases in the south but their brokers appeared to be buying cotton in the last hour. Rumors that a Southern crop reporting bureau would issue a preliminary condition report tomorrow of around 80.6 against 78.3 last month and the government ten-year average of 80 had only a temporary effect on the market.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 23.—Reports of damage to the crop in the eastern belt by high temperatures and lack of rain caused a quick spurt in the price of cotton today after noon. Shorts hurried to cover and fresh buying for long account appeared in considerable volume. At the highest levels the market was 10 to 12 points over yesterday's quotations. The close was at a net gain for the day of 7 to 9 points.

It was a weather market throughout the season. Reports of rains in Texas caused a selling wave and a loss of about 8 points in the early trading, but the official weather returns did not confirm private accounts of showers and the market reacted, although the real advance of the day did not come until after the stories of damage in the Atlantics.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, July 23.—Unofficial reports of showers in parts of central, north and northeast Texas overnight were responsible for a moderate decline in prices at the opening of the market today. The lower level was not long maintained, however, when it became known, through official government advices, that the rain occurred at only three points in Texas and was too light to be of any lasting benefit. The drouth still continues in Oklahoma and Arkansas and these states, together with Texas, must soon have general rain if severe deterioration in the crop is to be averted. With the month of August approaching, a time when the plant everywhere will be subjected to strain, makes it imperative that the southwest receive moisture in order to offset complaints of shedding, etc., from the other states.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, July 23.—There was a decided change in sentiment today. The little drop of rain reported in Texas this morning made the shorts afraid that this was all Texas was to get at this time, but the main reason for the strength shown was the fact that it is becoming evident that the condition in the eastern belt is not as good as has been reported. The close was steady at a net advance of about ten points on new crop months. For the present it looks like a bull market. If the government should show a condition of about 78 on its next report, and that is what it looks like today, we will see higher prices.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 23.—The sensitive condition of the market is shown by the sharp advance in the afternoon, when the earlier sellers found it hard to cover on the advices that Texas rains had been meager. The improvement was from local buying as speculation is inert. Liverpool reported spots in better demand, with an improvement in business, but, oddly enough, at easier prices. Crop news is the factor and with perfect weather needed, sellers are quick buyers when the market fails to decline either from pressure or other causes. There is no features beyond this, the situation is nearly critical and the trade watches the weather map. From other sections reports are becoming apprehensive.

Safety First.

(From London Punch.)

An American woman, according to The Express, has a serious complaint about the London policeman. She declares that she walked all the way from Queen's hall to Piccadilly circus with three buttons of her blouse undone at the back, and "not a single policeman" offered to do it up for her. No doubt the force was reluctant to interfere with what might turn out to be the latest fashion. A Boy Scout who offered the other day to sew up a split skirt got his ears soundly boxed.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, July 23.—Cotton seed oil declined early under selling by September by refiners and local bear pressure, but near deliveries steadied somewhat near the close on covering of shorts and with the late firmness in cotton and lard. BIG EXPORT SALES BOOSTED WHEAT

Black Rust Spreading to Canada, Also Contributed to the Advance in Wheat. Corn Made Jump.

Chicago, July 23.—Immense export sales and the certainty that black rust had crossed into Canada had much to do today with driving wheat prices up grade. The market closed nervous at ⅜ to 1⅛c net advance. Corn showed a jump of 1⅜c to 2½c and oats a gain of ⅝c to 1¼c. Provisions finished 10c off to a rise of 7½c.

It was estimated that sales of wheat for ocean shipment aggregated 1,500,000 bushels. No doubt was felt that the swift northward spread of black rust damage had been largely responsible for the urgent buying on European account. It was not overlooked, however, that heavy rains were interfering with the Russian harvest and that Argentine crop advices also were unfavorable.

Corn trading was the most excited of the season. Dry weather threatening serious danger in some of the best sections of the surplus states alarmed shorts and led to speculative buying on a big scale.

Oats made only a moderate response to the strength in corn.

Provisions rallied in consequence of the higher values for feed.

STOCKS WERE WEAK ALL THE SESSION

Gold Exports to Paris and Filing of the New Haven Suit Made Prices Turn Downward.

New York, July 23.—Resumption of gold exports to Paris, and the actual filing of the government's suit to dissolve the New Haven road, were the outstaanding features of today's heavy and dull stock market. Paris, Berlin and Vienna were reported as showing signs of demoralization. London sold about 15,000 shares, mostly high-grade stock, in this market, and the decline in Canadian Pacific to its lowest figure in four years resulted in part from direct Berlin selling.

The New Haven suit, which caused the stock to move in feverish fashion, aroused considerable interest, because the attorney general's brief suggested the appointment of a receiver to take over the property.

Many of the better known stocks fell from 7 to over 2 points, with weakness in Lehigh Valley and Reading. Baltimore and Ohio added another fraction to its low record, and Erie, Denver and Rio Grande preferred, Rock Island preferred and a few more inconspicuous stocks and bonds, sold at prices seldom, if ever, before quoted.

The movement was broader than recently, embracing more issues of potential value. United States Steel was singled out in the latter dealings, declining a point on extensive offerings. Fractional rallies in the final hour were effaced at the close, which was attended by much activity.

The general bond list continued to show a declining tendency to low-priced issues. Total sales, par value, were $2,829,000. United States coupon 4s advanced 1½ per cent on call.

GRAIN CROPS OF WORLD COMBINED SHOW LOSS

Washington, July 23.—Estimates of the grain crops this year, formulated by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome, Italy, and reported by cable today to the United States department of agriculture, show an aggregate wheat production of 2,458,000,000 bushels, or 3.4 per cent less than last year in Great Britain, Belgium, Spain, Italy, Luxemberg, European Russia, Switzerland, United States, Tunis, India, Japan and Hungary (excluding Croatia and Slavonia). The same countries, excepting India, report 2,356,000,000 bushels, or 7.6 per cent less than last year, of oats and 1,001,000,000 bushels, or 5.7 per cent less of barley.

The estimated production of rye in Belgium, Spain, Italy, Luxemberg, European Russia, Switzerland, Prussia and Hungary is 1,410,000,000 bushels, or 1.9 per cent less than last year.

Russia's principal crops are estimated:

Oats, 650,308,000 bushels, or 23.1 per cent less than last year; barley, 475,554,000 bushels, or 14.7 per cent less; rye, 938,856,000 bushels, or 2.4 per cent less, and spring wheat, 390,391,000 bushels, or 28.0 per cent less.

PAYMENT IS REFUSED TO SOUTHERN OFFICERS

Washington, July 23.—Majority Leader Underwood and other southern representatives today endeavored to secure favorable action by the house on a senate amendment to the general deficiency bill providing distribution to heirs of many confederate soldiers the allowances due them when they resigned in 1861 as officers in the United States army. The amendment carries $175,000. Distinguished confederate soldiers whose heirs would benefit, Mr. Underwood said, include Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson.

Republican Leader Mann opposed the amendment declaring Mr. Underwood did not understand the facts back of the proposed appropriation. Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee also spoke against it.

By a vote of 154 to 68, the house rejected the amendment.

SNAKES AND ROACHES, RATS AND TARANTULAS

New Orleans, July 23.—Six snakes, eighteen tarantulas, seventy rats, enough roaches to fill a barrel and "bedbugs" galore formed part of the cargo of a freight vessel sailing tropical seas and which was fumigated here yesterday. The ship was fumigated in connection with the fight against bubonic plague here and the work was in charge of Dr. G. M. Corput, of the public health service.

Two of the snakes were young boa constrictors and were over five feet in length. The other two were of a harmless Central American variety. Dr. Corput said finding of snakes and the deadly tarantula was not uncommon after fumigating ships in the tropical trade.

Cardinal Gibbons Aged 80.

Baltimore, July 23.—Cardinal Gibbons is 80 years old today. There was no formal celebration of the anniversary, the cardinal passing the day at the country home of T. Herbert Shriver, near Westminster, Md.

HEARING NOT PROBABLE FOR COL. ROOSEVELT

Washington, July 23.—Theodore Roosevelt's request to be heard by the senate foreign relations committee in opposition to the Colombian treaty, by which the United States would pay $25,000,000 for the Panama canal strip and express regret that anything should have occurred to "mar the friendly relations between the two countries," remained unanswered by the committee today. No decision will be reached for another week.

Democratic members of the committee and administration leaders generally are said to be opposed to holding hearings with relation to the treaty and particularly to the appearance of Colonel Roosevelt. In this they follow the sentiments of Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, who today reiterated his declaration that the former president had said all he could say about the Colombian matter, and that if he had anything further to say, "let him write it."

Republican members of the committee, it was learned today, are not all in favor of inviting Mr. Roosevelt to appear. Senator Smith, of Michigan, however, was outspoken in the matter, asserting that Mr. Roosevelt should be called by all means. Administration senators contend, however, that the country is not now interested in what happened in Colombia ten years ago, but in what should be done to adjust strained relations now existing.

DEADLIER PLAGUE TYPE FOUND AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., July 23.—What federal health authorities declared to be the septicaemic type of bubonic plague, made its appearance here today and claimed as its victim Mrs. Regina Schmidt, aged 73 years. This type of plague is considered more dangerous than the bubonic type known to exist here since June 27. The pneumonic type, said to prove fatal in ninety-eight cases out of 100, has not been found here.

The death of Mrs. Schmidt brings the plague fatalities to four and the number of cases reported to nine. The woman was taken ill on July 20, on which date blood cultures were taken and she was listed as a plague suspect. However, a positive blood test was not concluded until after her death today. Mrs. Schmidt and her 10-year-old granddaughter, Helen Soell, now at the Isolation hospital under treatment for the bubonic type of plague, resided at 525 Camp street, within the original focus of infection, and but a little more than five blocks from the principal business street of the city.

HOME RULE QUESTION BEFORE HIBERNIANS

Norfolk, Va., July 23.—The question of home rule for Ireland occupied the attention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at today's session. President James J. Regan discussed the home rule bill, stating that while it is far from being as broad and comprehensive as it should be it would be an important step in the right direction and the people of Ireland and their leaders were to be congratulated on forcing an English parliament to thus recognize the principle of home rule.

On motion of Father O'Donnell, of Massachusetts, the following cablegram was sent to John E. Redmond, leader of the Irish nationalists:

"The Ancient Order of Hibernians, 200,000 strong, in national convention assembled, extends its greetings to you and to the Irish volunteers. We pledge our assistance. Ireland must not be dismembered."

This afternoon, the delegates were entertained at a shore dinner at Cape Henry.

U. S. MARSHAL KILLED IN A WHISKY RAID

Tulsa, Okla., July 23.—Holmes Davidson, United States marshal for this district, and William R. Plank, a deputy, were shot and instantly killed here today by William Baber, when they attempted to enter the latter's residence to search it for contraband liquor.

When the officers arrived at the house they were met at the door by Baber who declined to permit them to enter.

Davidson and Plank endeavored to force an entrance when Baber seized a shotgun and emptied its contents into the bodies of the two men.

Baber claims Davidson and Plank did not produce a search warrant and both had attempted to draw weapons before he fired.

Davidson, it is said, had a pistol in his hand when he fell. Baber formerly was chief of police of this city.

JUSTICE UNDER 60 WANTED BY WILSON

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson wants to find a man under sixty years to fill the vacancy on the supreme court bench, caused by the death of Associate Justice Lurton, although a man slightly older would not be rejected.

When Senators Simmons and Overman today presented the name of Justice Walter Clark, of the North Carolina supreme court, who is 63 years old, the president outlined his ideas. So far as is known the president has made no definite selection from the many names presented. Secretary Lane and Attorney General McReynolds are still said to be foremost.

WILSON IS NEUTRAL IN FACTIONAL FIGHTS

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson told inquirers that at present the administration, as such, is taking no part in local democratic factional fights in any state. He refused to say whether he would continue to pursue a neutral attitude in the contests in New York and Illinois. He added that Secretary Bryan's part in the Illinois campaign was that of an individual rather than that of a representative of the administration.

Wilson Is Invited.

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson was invited today to meet many of the leading business men of New York at the annual banquet of the Merchants' association there this fall. A committee told the president he could name the date. It was understood he probably would accept.

Date for Royal Wedding.

Berlin, July 23.—September 28 has been set as the date for the marriage of Prince Oskar, fifth son of the German emperor and empress, to Countess Ina Marie Von Bassewitz-Levetzow. After her marriage the countess is to be styled the Countess von Ruppin.

COSSACKS AND POLICE STONED BY STRIKERS

Rioting Continues in St. Petersburg and Other Russian Cities.

St. Petersburg, July 23.—At least five strikers were killed and eight seriously wounded during fighting with Cossacks in the streets of St. Petersburg, which ceased at dawn this morning. Three police officials also are known to have been seriously injured.

The figures quoted are official, but it is generally understood that the casualties among the strikers were much heavier, as it is thought probable they concealed a number of their dead and wounded.

Official returns of the number of men who have quit work give the total of 120,000 in the city itself. These include the street car employees, but do not comprise a large number of unskilled laborers in the building and other trades.

Men carrying red flags spent the night marching and singing revolutionary songs in the outlying open spaces of the capital, while in the Viborg district they cut down telegraph poles and upset a number of vans, with which they constructed barricades across the streets. From the shelter of these they stoned the police and Cossacks. The mob is accused of having fired some revolver shots. The strikers dispersed only after the police and soldiers had been subjected to hot attacks with volleys of stones in four different parts of the city and had fired volleys from their rifles in return.

Early this morning the strikers attempted to set fire to the Samson bridge, leading across the river to the Viborg district and they also tried to destroy the neighboring waterworks, but a strong detachment of police arrived in time.

PUNISHMENT OF WOMEN UNDER THE MANN ACT

Chicago, July 23.—The first step towards a ruling by the United States supreme court to determine whether women proven to be co-conspirators with men in the violation of the Mann white slave act can be punished under the act, was taken in Milwaukee today according to an announcement here by officials of the department of justice.

Federal Judge Geiger sustained the demurrer to an indictment against Mrs. Clara Holte, 41, charging conspiracy to violate the Mann act.

Mrs. Holte was indicted with Chester C. Loudenslager, aged 21, whom she was charged with having accompanied from Barrington, Ill., to Milwaukee. Loundenslager is now serving a jail term.

An appeal to the supreme court was taken at once from Judge Geiger's decision. If the ruling is reversed, it will mean that every woman who accompanies a man from one state to another voluntarily for immoral purposes is equally guilty.

A reversal means, also it was said that the department of justice will arrest women who have appeared as witnesses against men who have been convicted of violation during the last three years.

ERRATIC MILLIONAIRE PLACED UNDER ARREST

Gulfport, Miss., July 23.—Physicians who today examined Charles Torrey, representing himself to be a millionaire of Los Angeles and whose erratic actions caused him to be arrested on the charge of disturbing the peace, today ascertained that apparently he had been struck a severe blow on the head. Torrey seemingly does not remember having been wounded, but doctors believe the wound may have been responsible for his actions of the past two days.

He is held at the town jail on the charge of disturbing the peace, but no action in the case will be taken until the arrival of his wife who telegraphed to officers today that she was on her way here.

Torrey came here several days ago and brought a 600-acre tract of land near the Gulf coast. Yesterday his actions about the hotel caused comment and yesterday afternoon he was arrested while trying to gain forcible entrance to the private quarters of a hotel manager. This was after he had disagreed with the management of one hotel over charges and had left to go to the other hostelry.

APPEALS FOR RELEASE OF HERBERT HOCKIN

Washingon, July 23.—Appeals for the release of Herbert S. Hockin, serving a sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary for his part in the celebrated dynamite case and who was denounced by the government as the "Iago of the conspiracy," are being presented to President Wilson and to Attorney General McReynolds.

Detectives who worked up the prosecution with Hockin's confession made representations in his favor today to the white house. Mrs. Hockin is preparing a petition for the release of her husband.

Canada Rid of Hindus.

Vancouver B. C., July 23.—The Japanese steamer Komogata with her load of 352 Hindus who resisted the Canadian government order of deportation for more than three months, left the harbor today bound for the Orient. The Hindus passengers made no demonstration. The cruiser Rainbow will accompany the Komogata to a point off Vancouver Island.

STEWARDS INDORSE SITE OF UNIVERSITY

Atlanta Methodist Association Members Will Help Raise Fund for Institution.

Resolutions indorsing the action of the educational commission in locating the new $5,000,000 Methodist university in Atlanta, have been adopted by the Atlanta Methodist Stewards association.

The establishment of the university was one of the most important discussions at the meeting, and while no definite action was taken, the sentiment of the association is so strongly in favor of the institution that the members will join in the campaign to raise the funds.

In addition to the indorsement of the action of the commission, the association voted its thanks to the individual members and to Asa G. Candler, whose gift of $1,000,000 was announced immediately after the commission gave its decision in favor of Atlanta.

The resolutions follow:

The Atlanta Methodist Stewards' association, in regular meeting assembled, realizing with gratitude the great opportunity offered to the Methodists of Atlanta and of Georgia for the advancement of the kingdom in our midst by the establishment in our city of the new Methodist university to be located east of the Mississippi river, and appreciating, too, the great responsibilities that accompany this opportunity and rest with peculiar emphasis on the Methodists of Atlanta, do hereby resolve:

First, That we heartily indorse as just and wise the action of the educational commission in choosing Atlanta as the seat of this university, and believe that this choice will be universally acceptable to southern Methodists and will redound to the great good of our church and to the great advancement of Christian culture.

Second, That we felicitate ourselves that he whose generous gift to the university and whose inspiring message accompanying the gift have stamped him anew as the first of southern Methodist laymen, is a citizen and resident of Georgia and Atlanta, and a faithful and loyal member of this association, and we join all southern Methodism in expressing our appreciation of the service and gift of Mr. Asa G. Candler to the university and in wishing for him the pleasure of seeing the institution that he has so nobly aided attain to prominence and usefulness.

Third, That we sincerely and earnestly thank the educational commission for the compliment paid our city, and we also thank the chamber of commerce, the committee of fifteen, those generous contributors, both of our own and other denominations, the Atlanta papers and all those whose splendid and untiring service brought this great institution to our city.

Fourth, That we, both as an association and as individual Methodists, pledge our loyal and hearty support and allegiance to the university, and hereby express our desire to do all that we can always and in all ways to build up wisely and well this great undertaking that means so much to all of us.

Fifth, That the secretary of this association be directed to enter these resolutions on the minutes of this association and to furnish a copy to the chairman of the educational commission.

Respectfully submitted,
W. A. FOSTER.
C. W. MANGUM.
BAYNE GIBSON.

FRIENDS OF HARRIS FORM FULTON CLUB

St. Elmo Massengale Elected Permanent Chairman of County Organization.

Enthusiasm marked the meeting in the Piedmont hotel ballroom last night for the permanent organization of the Nat E. Harris Fulton County club. The room was filled and every man present pledged himself to earnest effort to win this county for Judge Harris.

St. Elmo Massengale, president of the Massengale Advertising Agency, was elected permanent chairman. In a brief talk Mr. Massengale accepted, stating that he thought better and more experienced men should lead but that he was so deeply interested in Judge Harris's candidacy that he was entirely willing to lend his best efforts to have him win. James L. Anderson was elected vice president and Owen Johnson will continue as secretary until a permanent secretary is named. Mr. Massengale was empowered to select his own secretary and to name an executive committee, which he will do some time Friday.

Many Talks For Harris.

Talks were made by General A. J. West, Colonel Mark Johnson, John Clay Smith, E. T. Williams, W. C. Davis and Donald Bain. Mr. Bain has the honor to head the first Nat Harris club organized in Fulton, the Hapeville club.

One speaker referred to Judge Harris's work in Oklahoma City for the great Methodist university in Atlanta.

The following prominent Atlantans volunteered to speak in the county in the interest of Judge Harris whenever called upon: R. A. Broyles, Mark Johnson, K. G. Matheson, Donald Bain, A. J. West, E. T. Williams, E. V. Carter, E. E. Pomeroy, Aldine Chambers, E. F. Childress and John Clay Smith.

Ward committees were named and will start organization work at once. J. H. Andrews and H. D. Shackelford, representatives of the traveling men's organizations, stated that members of these organizations were practically solid for Judge Harris.

Some time in August a great mass meeting will be called and Judge Harris will come to Atlanta to address the people.

ATLANTA ARTILLERY IS NOT A COMPANY OF FIFTH REGIMENT

Recently in a news story mention was made of "the artillery division of the Fifth regiment." Now comes the publicity committee of the aforesaid artillery division to declare that such a description of said division is sadly in error.

In denying that the artillery organization, which has its home in Atlanta, is "married" to the Fifth regiment, the committee has this to say:

"We are not 'battery B of the Fifth regiment.' The Fifth regiment is an infantry organization, and is, of course, composed of infantry companies. Nor are we 'the field gun section' or 'the artillery division' of the same. Neither are we part or parcel of the Governor's Horse Guards or the cavalry branch of the service.

"Our full name is 'Battery B, First battalion field artillery, national guard of Georgia.' Our nickname is 'the Atlanta artillery.' We have our own quarters and peculiar equipment (which, by the way, is the most expensive and extensive in Atlanta) and are governed by our own officers. Our organization is the largest national guard unit in the state. Our branch is a distinctive arm of the service; our work is different from either infantry or cavalry and our rank in military precedence is higher than both of these."

BARTON RETURNS TO FITZGERALD

Fitzgerald, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Ben Barton, who killed a negro named Green, in the county jail several days ago, came into the city on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic midnight train last night and stated to Dr. C. A. Holtzendorf, of this city, that he had been to Norfolk, Va., and had come back to give himself up.

Dr. Holtzendorf notified the authorities but Barton had not been arrested late tonight, and nothing has been seen of him today. His excuse for shooting the negro was that the negro was trying to get Barton's pistol out of his pocket.

Another warrant for Ben Barton, wanted for the murder of the negro Will Green, was sworn out by Sidney Claire before Judge D. B. Adams. This second warrant charges Barton with the murder of Henry Brown, a negro, murdered in his woodyard in this city about a year ago. Since the murder of Green, the negro in jail, evidence has come to light to cause Mr. Claire to issue this warrant.

PLAZA PROJECT URGED BY MAYOR WOODWARD

Representatives of Atlanta Appear Before W. & A. Committee of Senate.

"While I am keenly disappointed over the report of the Western and Atlantic commission," said Mayor James G. Woodward Thursday, "I have not abandoned the fight to carry the plaza project through as we planned. I feel certain that something can be done yet to convince the legislature that the plan is a good one, beneficial to the state as well as to the city."

Mayor Woodward and members of the plaza committee of the city council and Chamber of Commerce appeared before the Western & Atlantic committee of the senate Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Mayor Woodward told the committee that he was disappointed over the report, but he explained that he was glad to have an opportunity of appearing before the commission and placing the facts and figures upon which the city has been working.

Chairman J. W. L. Brown adjourned the conference after Mayor Woodward, Mell R. Wilkinson and Judge John S. Candler spoke on the advantages of the plaza.

Chairman Brown informed the city representatives that he will call another meeting next Tuesday and that the house committee on Western and Atlantic affairs will be invited to hear Atlanta's arguments. In the meantime Mayor Woodward and the other members of the committee will prepare arguments.

Made a Good Living, Selling and Stealing Rabbits, Say Police

Sam Williams, negro, living at No. 9 Butler street, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Call Officer Barfield, on a charge of stealing rabbits from the rabbit pen, on Capitol avenue, where they are kept by the state board of health for experimental purposes, and then selling them back to the manager.

Sam had been selling rabbits day after day to the state board of health, but one day last week he sold them a rabbit which the manager recognized as one Sam had sold him the day before.

Becoming suspicious, the manager decided to mark a number of the rabbits in the pen. The next morning, bright and early, as usual, Sam appeared with more rabbits for sale.

The manager bought them. He recognized the marks he had made on them the evening before.

Call Officer Barfield was summoned, and Sam's record was investigated.

Officer Barfield went over the books, where each purchase had been entered, and says that over 200 rabbits had been sold in this manner by Sam.

COOPER AND RAWLINGS SPEAK AT SANDERSVILLE

Sandersville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) More than a thousand people assembled at the Chalker picnic today and were entertained to political speeches from Judge B. T. Rawlings, candidate for congress, and John R. Cooper, candidate for the senate.

Judge Rawlings is a fluent and eloquent speaker, and presented his claims in a stirring speech after dinner was served.

Mr. Cooper entertianed the crowd by paying his respects to Slaton, Felder, Hutchens and Hardwick. He claimed that Hardwick had alhready been honored enough and thought Cooper should now be given a chance. He scored Slaton heavily, claiming that he had paid big sums to have his pitcure and campaign material published in newspapers, and that he was spending money freely to bring himself before the voters of Georgia. He said Felder was talked about in and around Macon, but away from the city he had no political strength worth consideration.

The speech was good-natured and kept the audience laughing nearly all the time.

GA. EXPERIMENT STATION ON HOG CHOLERA OPENS

Bainbridge, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Georgia's only hog cholera experiment station, which is one of 13 in the United States, was formally started this week with the arrival of Dr. R. H. McNally, D. V. M., sent from Henderson, Ky., who is to have charge of the work. Yesterday J. E. Pfitzer, D. V. M., of Crawfordville, Ind., arrived to assist Dr. McNally. Dr. Grubbs, who is taken from similar work in Iowa, will arrive July 27th. The first work to be done is to take a census of the hogs in the county during 1912 and the two succeeding years, along with securing statistics of damage done by hog cholera.

Simultaneously with his work will go the education and organization of the farmers through the State College of Agriculture, L. G. Proctor being in charge.

Following the census will come the actual work of hog cholera eradication when the state veterinarian's office will enter the work and put into force sanitary, disinfection and quarantine regulations.

The officer in charge has not been named.

JAG RACE PROMOTERS ARE NEARLY NABBED

Savannah, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Two Atlanta traveling men had a lot of fun at Tybee yesterday, but their good time came near having fatal results. Waiting for a train back to the city became monotonous, so the visitors decided to enliven things. Two negro men were idling nearby. They agreed to engage in a liquor-drinking contest.

The visitors ordered the drinks and fed them to the contestants. The negroes consumed a dozen bottles of beer in short order and disposed of the better part of a quart bottle of whisky before they got full. Almost at the same moment both men toppled over as limp as a dish rag. Then it was the promoters of the jag fest realized that the consequences might be serious and called a doctor. It was hours before the men came around all right. Meanwhile the police had the Atlantans under surveillance.

Rome Residence Burns.

Rome, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—La Homa, the handsome country home of J. S. Veal, near this city, was completely destroyed by fire. It is believed that the house was set on fire by tramps after they had robbed it. Two ladders which had been used in the orchard were found partly burned beside the house. The residence and its contents were a complete loss.

South Georgia Couples Are Being Led by Cupid Over Gretna Green Route

Thomasville, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Cupid seems to have run amuck in south Georgia of late and is hitting victims right and left. The young people do not stop to consult their parents, but are in many instances taking matters in their own hands and getting united by the Gretna Green route.

A marriage of this nature this week that was of a good deal of interest to Thomasville people was that of Miss Nettie Baker, of Pensacola, and Elbert Tillman, of this city, which took place at Newton, Baker county. Miss Baker, her mother and two sisters were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Arnold, relatives, in this city. Finding they could not persuade the girl's mother to come around to their way of thinking the couple took matters in their own hands, and, with two friends, left in an automobile for Camilla. Instructions had been wired to that town forbidding the issuing of a license by the ordinary, the same instructions being sent to various other towns after the departure of the couple was discovered. Newton was not one of the towns included, however, so the license was obtained there and the couple made one.

A marriage of the Gretna Green variety, in which two young people of Pavo figured, took place a few days ago when Miss Onie Reese and Claude Carithers, of that city, became one. This couple also encountered parental objections, and their marriage was consummated under difficulties, the young people eloping in the good old way.

The bride is the daughter of Hon. B. C. Reese, representative from Thomas to the legislature, and the groom a well-known young man of the Pavo district. The marriage took place during the absence of Mr. Reese, who was attending the legislature in Atlanta.

HARDWICK ADDRESSES POLK COUNTY VOTERS

Rockmart, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) Before an assemblage of representative citizens of Rockmart and Polk county Thomas W. Hardwick, candidate to succeed the late Senator A. O. Bacon, spoke for an hour yesterday to 300 attentive listeners.

Colonel Hardwick used as his main appeal for honors at the hands of the people the fact that he has seen twelve years of service in the capacity of congressman and that the people should consider his candidacy favorably on account of his previous record and experience. His opponents, he stated, were all green in the workings of affairs at the national capitol.

Throughout his speech he dwelt largely upon his record during the last twelve years and called the attention to several bills that he had helped through the house and to some that he had helped to defeat. He dwelt at length upon the parcel post and immigration laws.

The speaker paid the highest possible tribute to President Wilson and criticised most severely the newspapers who have made the statement that the president was not southern born and reared. He stated that in his opinion Wilson is the greatest president that the United States has known since the time of Thomas Jefferson.

Colonel Hardwick closed his speech by asking the vote of the people for what he had done rather than what the other candidates promised they would do.

NORMAN IS INDICTED FOR MURDER OF SAPP

Moultrie, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Superior court for this county is in regular session for the July term. Only criminal business is being disposed of, Judge Thomas declining to try civil cases on account of the farmers being so busy with their crops. The grand jury up to this time has found a number of true bills and the indications are that court will hold through next week in disposing of them. James M. Norman was indicted for murder of Mart Sapp two months ago, although the coroner's jury found a verdict of justifiable homicide.

UNITED STATES WARNS HAITI AND SAN DOMINGO

Washington, July 23.—Drastic action by the United States government in Haiti and San Domingo is imminent. Force will not be used until every effort is made to settle the revolutions in the two countries by peaceful means.

President Wilson today explained to inquirers the position of the American government toward the two republics as one of much anxiety. He said marines had been concentrated to be ready for any emergency that might arise and admitted that the representatives of the United States had used strong language in urging peace.

The president indicated that no fixed policy of intervention had as yet been determined upon and future steps would depend on the developments from day to day. He intimated that no answer which could be considered final had been received as yet from the military chiefs and attributed the delay largely to bad communication facilities. The transport Prairie, with a small detachment of marines, is expected to arrive tonight at Cape Haitien to fill out the complements of the cruiser Washington and battleship South Carolina.

Masons Meet at Trion.

Rome, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—A number of Rome Masons spent today in Trion in attendance on the Chattooga county Masonic convention. Judge Max Meyerhardt, former grand master of the state, addressed the convention, and other past grand masters present were Henry Banks, of LaGrange, and J. W. Taylor, of Luthersville.

POSSES SCOUR COUNTRY FOR WOMAN'S ASSAILANT

J. B. Harper Alleged to Have Attacked White Woman in Crisp County.

Cordele, Ga., July 23.—(Special.)—Officers over the entire section are on the alert to capture J. B. Harper, a young white man, alleged to have committed an assault upon a well-known white married woman at her home near Hatley, in Crisp county, last night when her husband was away.

Harper is said to have come in the direction of Cordele. He has been employed as a laborer on the farm of John Swain. A warrant was sworn out in Turner county for Harper's arrest, but made transferrable to Crisp.

A suspect arrested here proved to be the wrong man, though Marshal John Cason, of Rebecca, Turner county, near which place the alleged crime was committed, states that another suspect has been captured near Seville.

Threats of violence have been made against Harper if he is captured. He is described as being about 25 years of age, low and chunky, partially bald and with a florid complexion.

Marshal Strickland, of Seville, wiring Chief of Police Summer, of Cordele, from Vienna, states that he has Harper located in a swamp near Tippettville. It is suspected that he will attempt to make his way to Vienna or Cordele tonight.

VOTERS OF WARRENTON ADDRESSED BY HARDMAN

Warrenton, Ga., July 23.—(Special.) In an address here today, Dr. L. G. Hardman did not mention by name either opponent but invited a comparison of their records with his own on the line of his efforts in the legislature tending to the conservation of the state's resources and also of human life. His policy of obedience to law was stressed and he stated that the time had come for the people to stop voting on mere promises, concluding with the remark that whether he was elected or not he appealed to all people to work together for those things that would benefit the people of this great state.
